Orbit Attempt May Be Tried On Thursday

Astronaut Readies For Launching Due Later This Week

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Project Mercury officals say the next attempt to rocket astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. three times around the world will come no earlier than Thursday.

Thus, today may have dawned T minus 73 hours for the Marine lieutenant colonel who sat more than five hours in the waiting spacecraft Saturday before weather forced a postponement.

Glenn, 40, attended Sunday services in Riverside Presbyterian Church at Cocoa Beach and told the Rev. Charles E. Pfeiffer when he left, "Don't worry, I'll be back."

Otherwise Glenn was busy with preparations for his trip. Before church he attended an evaluation session. In the afternoon he donned his space suit and went through an hour-long practice mission in the space trainer

Rocket and spacecraft crews worked on the Atlas booster rocket and the Friendship 7 atop it. They also went through a dress rehearsal of the last critical hours of the launch-day countdown. All systems were reported checking out well.

The critical problem at this stage again seemed to be the weather. Will clouds or winds over this missile base prevent the Atlas from being launched by limiting the visibility or making the few unsteady moments of the rocket's liftoff dangerous?

Will heavy seas, primarily in the Atlantic Ocean, put in doubt a safe recovery of Glenn and his capsule after the earth has been orbited?

On Saturday, a concentrated bank of clouds, nearly 1,000 feet thick, spread over central Florida. The countdown was halted with only 20 minutes to go. Later in the afternoon the skies cleared.

In Arlington, Va., the astronaut's family went about Sunday as usual, though Mrs. Glenn admitted the waiting was making it difficult to keep family life normal.

News Conference Set By President Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy plans to hold a news conference Wednesday at 4 p.m. EST.

The session will not be carried live by television or radio but may be taped or filmed for later use.

Burial Held For Luciano In Homeland

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Elegantly attired friends, local businessmen, plainclothes police and pretty Neapolitan girls packed the church today for the funeral of Charles (Lucky) Luciano, the Italian emigrant who became a New York vice lord.

Joe (Cock-eyed John) Raimondi, Nick di Marzio and Joe di Giorgio were there. U.S. Narcotics Bureau agents spotted them among friends who, like Luciano, had been deported by the United States to their homeland.

"So Long, Pal" said the inscription on a floral piece from Joe Adonis, former New Jersey gambling king who chose to return to Italy in 1956 rather than serve a term in prison.

Adonis himself could not get to the church for the funeral. Authorities won't let him leave his little home town of Avellino, 25 miles away, without special permission.

Luciano's mahogany casket lay in the Roman Catholic church with six wreaths on it as the local pastor sang a Requiem Mass for him.

A U.S. agent said one of every five persons in the church was a plainclothesman, either Italian or American. Three American agents recorded on movie film the faces of everyone who walked in.

Flashbulbs popped steadily during the service, as they had while the mourners were arriving. They didn't seem to bother Luciano's

2 Messages Due Tuesday In Congress

Kennedy Prepares Proposals On Farm And Urban Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy sends two important messages to Congress this week: his new farm proposals and a plan to establish a Cabinet-level department of urban affairs.

In his farm message Tuesday Kennedy is expected to endorse broader control programs with a view to bringing stability to all farm commodities.

Farm legislation usually engenders political controversy and Kennedy's proposals are not expected to be an exception.

Also laden with political dynamite is Kennedy's message on urban affairs, which is expected to go to Capitol Hill Tuesday.

Kennedy is expected to hammer again on the theme that a new federal office is essential to coordinate plans for solving transit, traffic, slum and utility problems of metropolitan areas.

Last week, Republicans and Southern Democrats combined in the House Rules Committee to kill the administration's urban affairs bill. Kennedy promptly announced he would attempt to upset that action by proposing the department in a government reorganization plan.

Kennedy has confirmed that he

Press Labels Princess 'Perverse And Petulant'

LONDON (AP)—The womanly whims of Princess Margaret—once the darling of the nation—today came in for some of the frankest criticism she has ever had to face.

The Daily Mirror called her occasionally perverse and petulant and said her future was a problem.

It was the latest, and the toughest, round in a bout of scattered sniping at the princess whose actions lately seem to have disenchanted some people.

There was disapproving headshaking when she and her husband, Lord Snowdon, took off from London's icy winter a few weeks ago for the Caribbean sun, leaving their two-month-old son David behind.

Then a businessman publicly complained that the royal party had hogged all the first-class seats in the plane taking Margaret and her husband to Antigua.

While they were away a row broke out over the cost of giving a $230,000 facelift to their new home at Kensington Palace.

What annoyed some people was that the government was prepared to spend the money on a couple well heeled anyway while other folks were homeless and the government was banning wage boosts.

Moon Shot Fails In Bid For Picture

Space Craft Slated For Eternal Flight In Solar System

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Ranger 3, the moonshot that missed its target by nearly 23,000 miles, is doomed to spend the rest of eternity in futile flight—an accidental satellite of the sun.

Of its four objectives, the $7-million space craft apparently accomplished only one.

The biggest disappointment was that it missed the moon by 22,862 miles. This happened because it was hurled into its trajectory at excessive speed after it was launched Friday from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

That failure brought on others. For one thing, the 727-pound space craft was unable to bounce radar signals off the moon. And, since it did not land its capsule on the moon, it was unable to bring its seismomoter into play and measure moonquakes.

It also failed to get close-up pictures of the moon. The long-range shots it got as it sped past apparently will be of little value, if any.

The one thing Ranger 3 did was collect gamma radiation data. These data already are being analyzed.

Ranger 3 raced by the moon and into oblivion Sunday afternoon, beginning to tumble as it went into solar orbit. Only one of its transmitters was working. During periods when that transmitter's antenna was pointed toward earth, scientists were able to pick up the signal and chart Ranger's progress.

An official of the Jet Propulsion Labratory, operated here for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Ranger 3 will remain in orbit "for the duration of the solar system's life."

The television cameras aboard Ranger 3 were supposed to operate for 40 minutes, as the space craft descended slowly toward the moon in its final maneuver. Had the operation gone smoothly, the pictures would have shown the moon in detail never before achieved.

When the camera was turned on Sunday as Ranger 3 sped by the moon, the space craft failed to keep its antenna pointed toward earth. The signal received at Goldstone tracking station in the California desert was weaker than it should have been and was masked by noise.

Scientists said they would try to unmask the signal and evaluate it. A jet propulsion laboratory spokesman said this may take several weeks. He added: "There is little hope that it will produce any beneficial results."

Court Action Planned For Dr. Sheppard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Boston attorney said today he expects to seek a court order requiring the warden of Ohio Penitentiary to permit a lie detector test for Samuel H. Sheppard, Cleveland wife-slayer.

F. Lee Bailey, the attorney, said that appeared to be the only course open in seeking freedom for Sheppard after Gov. Michael V. DiSalle again refused permission for a test.

Bailey conferred with the governor for about 30 minutes behind closed doors.

"It looks like we are going to go to court," Bailey said afterward. "It appears that the only remedy now is a writ of mandamus from common pleas court to order the warden to permit a test. We certainly are not going to drop the matter."

Sheppard has steadfastly denied

Men Injured As Auto Rams East End Pole

Pennsylvania Ave. Crash Rips Down Wires To Fire Box

Two district men were injured, one critically, when their car crashed into a utility pole Saturday night at 11:55 on Pennsylvania Ave. about 50 feet west of Boyce St., police reported.

They are Stanley Cica, 35, of Industry R. D. 1, the driver, and his passenger, Virgil Martin, 48, of 1st St., Newell.

Cica's condition today at City Hospital was listed as "critical." He suffered crushed ribs, a torn artery in the chest and paralysis of the right arm.

In addition to damaging the utility pole, the crash tore down the lines to a fire department call box, police said. Cica was operating a 1953 sedan owned by Robert Loncar, also of Industry R. D. 1. The entire front of the car was smashed, police said.

The investigation still is pending, as Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins and Howard W. Bosworth, dispatched to the scene, said they were unable to get a statement from the driver because of his injuries. Investigation indicated the auto was headed east on Pennsylvania Ave. when it struck the utility police, officers said.

Ohio 'Short', Not 'Broke', DiSalle Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio is short of operating capital, but the state is not broke, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said today.

"The state can't be considered to be broke if it has assets and money coming in," the governor told newsmen.

"If we had all the money in now that we collect during the year, there would be no problem. After the big school foundation payment in February, there will be a breathing spell until May."

The governor's remarks answered questions about Ohio's changing financial picture. DiSalle said recently the state probably would get through next June without borrowing. Early last November his finance director said the state might run out of cash early this year.

DiSalle visited two Columbus families on poor relief Sunday to check on conditions reported in letters to his office. One couple has four children and the other eight. Both are receiving $96 a month from the county welfare department. The family with four children pays $75 a month for rent and the other family $61,

District Snow Slated To End With 3 Inches

Hazardous Driving Conditions Created By Steady Storm

About three inches of snow will accumulate in the East Liverpool area as a result of a storm that began last midnight, the Ohio weatherman said.

Streets and highways throughout the area were treacherous this morning as a result of the steady snowfall, which had built up to nearly two inches at midmorning. In some places the fresh snow was underlaid with ice, compounding the hazards to traffic.

The weatherman said the storm will diminish to intermittent light snow this afternoon or evening. It will be mostly cloudy tonight and Tuesday, with an overnight low of 10-16, he said.

The high today will hit 22-26. Tuesday will see some more intermittent snow, the weatherman said.

In East Liverpool, street department crews began ashing grades and intersections about 6:45 a. m.

Rough Time Due Sunday, World Astrologers Claim

NEW YORK (AP)—If you believe in astrology, don't make any plans for next Monday. There may not be a next Monday.

Even if there is a next Monday, the astrologers say, it won't be much fun. Storms, tidal waves, earthquakes, the sinking of continents, financial panic and the outbreak of World War III are liable to make the day hectic.

All these dire predictions, and more, are being made by astrologers the world over who expect the advent of catastrophe some time Sunday. They base their prophesies on an inauspicious combination of the planets in the constellation of Capricorn.

Astronomers — serious students of the heavenly bodies — agree that the five visible planets of Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn will be grouped along with the sun and the moon around the constellations of Capricorn and Aquarius. Beyond this point, the astronomers and the astrologers go separate ways.

"Nonsense" is the way James S. Pickering, assistant astronomer of the Hayden Planetarium in New York, describes the prophecies of doom. "It's the same kind of gobbledegook astrologers have been handing out for centuries."

Astrologers—who try to tell the future by the movements of the planets—don't see it that way. They are preparing for the worst.

Rusk Wins Accord On Cuba Stand

Dispute Continues On Procedure For Ousting Of Havana

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—The foreign ministers of the American states agreed in principle today to "suspend" Fidel Castro's Cuban regime from hemisphere family councils.

A U.S. delegation source disclosed the breakthrough on this toughest issue of the conference, which has prolonged its deliberations here beyond the scheduled closing today. It came when Argentina and Chile — members of the so-called soft seven bloc led by Brazil and Mexico—accepted the majority view on the suspension procedure.

The U.S. informant speculated that the United States would get 17 to 18 of the 20 available votes for a policy statement that the Castro regime is unfit to sit in hemisphere councils so long as it embraces the Communist philosophy. The Council of the Organization of American States will be instructed by this conference to decide "without delay" just how Cuba can be suspended.

Agreeing not to disagree, the Western Hemisphere foreign ministers reached a general accord that there should be a series of at least six resolutions embodied in a final declaration so that those who wanted to vote against certain aspects could do so.

Drafting of the declaration is expected to be completed today, with a vote Tuesday to wind the conference up by Tuesday night.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk appeared to have achieved limited success to this extent:

Most, if not all, of the 19 Latin-American republics judging Cuba agree the Havana regime should be declared incompatible with the American system. Most are agreed the government of Prime Minister Fidel Castro should be suspended or expelled from OAS agencies. Most are agreed there should be no arms trade between their countries and Cuba. They hold Castro's representatives should not sit on the Inter-American Defense Board and they feel a vigilance committee should be created to keep watch against subversion.

There were great differences of opinion here on just what all this added up to.

The United States managed to get all countries—even Mexico, which voted with Cuba against holding this conference—to proclaim collectively that communism is bad for the hemisphere

Drafting of the declaration is expected to be completed today, with a vote Tuesday to wind the conference up by Tuesday night.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk appeared to have achieved limited success to this extent:

Most, if not all, of the 19 Latin-American republics judging Cuba agree the Havana regime should be declared incompatible with the American system. Most are agreed the government of Prime Minister Fidel Castro should be suspended or expelled from OAS agencies. Most are agreed there should be no arms trade between their countries and Cuba. They hold Castro's representatives should not sit on the Inter-American Defense Board and they feel a vigilance committee should be created to keep watch against subversion.

There were great differences of opinion here on just what all this added up to.

The United States managed to get all countries—even Mexico, which voted with Cuba against holding this conference—to proclaim collectively that communism is bad for the hemisphere the day after she and her husband got back from their vacation.

When they flew off to the Caribbean sun, said the Mirror, "eyebrows were raised among the public, for 1961 was not exactly an exhausting year for either of them."

Then it added: "But the princess is a lady with a mind of her own. Charming, but occasionally perverse. Those who can influence her can be counted on one finger, for perversity means "disposed to go contrary to what is reasonable or required."

The Antigua vacation was a refresher for Snowdon before he starts his job as artistic adviser with the Sunday Times—cause of more public discontent.

But the Mirror declared it was all in favor of Snowdon taking a worthwhile job instead of "walking the regulation number of paces behind his wife or sister-in-law (Queen Elizabeth) on state occasions."

Said the Mirror: "If anybody is worried about Tony joining the Sunday Times, the whole business can be balanced by Princess Margaret joining the Mirror as women's editor, though this offer cannot remain open indefinitely."

Then it added gravely: "The problem is not the future of the photographer, but the future of the princess.

"Her critics may be too severe in saying that she performs the minimum of work at the maximum level of public expenditure, but her petulant decisions and personal insistencies are bound to raise the question sooner or later whether she should retire into private life."

and that Castroism is incompatible with the Inter-American system if it remains in the embrace of the Soviet bloc.

Most agree in principle that the Castro regime does not belong in OAS agencies. The big stumbling block is how to get Cuba out.

The bloc of seven go-slow nations led by Brazil and Mexico wanted to toss the issue to the OAS Council in Washington, where the matter would come under the OAS charter and not the Rio de Janeiro treaty for inter-American defense.

There is no machinery under the OAS charter, by which the council is bound, to oust any member from its agencies. There is machinery under the Rio treaty.

Since a mass diplomatic break with Cuba was ruled out at the beginning of this conference, little punitive action is envisioned under the six-part declaration. An economic break is made entirely voluntary. Nations which have broken diplomatic relations with Cuba have no trade with the Castro regime except in nonstrategic items.

Coed's Happy Hunting Grounds Are Jammed

At the University of Illinois coeds have pushed the ratio to three men for every woman to two and a half to one.

The girls increased their numbers by 9.32 per cent while men lagged behind with an increase of only 3.37 per cent.

There are 16,364 men and 6,695 women enrolled at the university.

The two new york Lucanias—Luciano's real family name—paid no attention. But relatives of a 24-year-old Neapolitan girl said to have been a close friend of Luciano slapped one news photographer and tried to grab another's camera.

Luciano's casket was placed in an ornately carved silver-and-black funeral carriage, with huge silver lanterns mounted near the doors. It was drawn by eight coal-black horses.

The cortege moved away slowly under a dreary overcast for the four-mile trip to the English cemetery at Poggioreale.

Policemen at every intersection along the way snapped to attention and saluted the horse-drawn carriage, as they do whenever a funeral party passes.

Luciano's casket was put inside the cemetery chapel. It is to stay there until the Lucianias know whether burial will be in Italy or if authorities will permit them to take the body back to the United States.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol said roads in Columbiana County are snow-covered and slippery. Officers advised motorists to use caution. Route 30 has been cindered, but the highway remains slushy and hazardous, the patrol said.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol near Steubenville said the highways in its area are slippery in spots.

The Wellsville street crew was called out at 8 a. m. to begin spreading ashes and salt on slippery grades and at intersections, according to Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare.

Midland police said borough streets were "passable" and no trouble was reported. They said street crews were called out this morning to cinder.

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said highways in its area were slippery in places.

The Rochester barracks reported roads "not in bad shape and cindered." The inside lanes of four-lane roads were reported snow-covered.

Kennedy

intends to appoint Robert C. Weaver, a Negro who now heads the Housing and Home Finance Agency, as head of the new department.

Both the House and Senate plan to debate this week a major administration proposal—federal aid for colleges—with chances of passage rated good in each branch.

The Senate version is much broader than the one before the House, so there may be difficulty in adjusting the differences in conference.

The stripped-down House college bill would provide $300 million a year for five years to help build classrooms, laboratories and libraries. Sixty per cent would be in matching grants, the rest in low-interest loans.

The Senate bill contains $1.5 billion to aid in construction for classrooms and other facilities, all in the form of loans; $924 million for student scholarships, and $250 million in matching grants to aid in construction of community junior colleges.

There may be a flurry in the Senate today over whether to send an administration civil rights bill to the Judiciary Committee, the graveyard of such legislation in the past.

The bill, introduced last Thursday by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, provides that a sixth-grade education be the only literacy test for voters in federal elections.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said he felt the bill should be referred to the Rules Committee, which handles elections legislation, and that he might seek to force this today by a vote. Mansfield said he expected it to go to Judiciary.

clubbing his wife, Marilyn, to death in their Bay Village home near Cleveland July 4, 1954. He was convicted of second-degree murder and is serving a life sentence.

Bailey said he is not interested in a parole for Sheppard.

"I hardly think that is an appropriate remedy," he said. "It wouldn't establish his innocence and it wouldn't restore his license to practice." Sheppard was an osteopath.

Bailey said he will confer in Columbus with Paul M. Herbert, special counsel who represented Sheppard in his unsuccessful appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court. Bailey added that he does not expect Herbert to be available for the contemplated common pleas court action. Herbert has announced his candidacy for judge of the Ohio Supreme Court in this year's election.

Bailey added that Herbert would be his first choice otherwise. He said he had no other attorney in mind at the moment.

The Boston attorney said he will return to Cleveland for conferences tonight and go to Boston tomorrow.

Purkey explained that the governor refused to order a lie detector test because he did not want to set a precedent.

The governor said previously the Sheppard cause differs from the case of Edythe Klumpp who was convicted of first-degree murder and sentenced to death in the slaying of a Cincinnati woman. The governor supervised a sodium amytal—so - called truth serum—test for Mrs. Klumpp before commuting her sentence to life imprisonment.

How Can I?

Q. How can I remove crayon markings from wallpaper?

A. Try sponging the crayon stains lightly with a soft cloth moistened with carbon tetrachloride (testing first in an inconspicuous place for color - removal). It may be necessary to repeat the sponging a few times. Washable papers may be given a final soap and water treatment. If the carbon tetrachloride leaves a ring on non - washable paper, try fuller's earth poultice (fuller's earth mixed with carbon tetrachloride, smoothed on the spot, allowed to dry, then brushed off).

Q. How can I make a good "homemade" soap, with a nice fragance?

A. By saving all your old scraps of favorite - brand soaps, melting these together into some convenient kind of mold.

Q. How can I prevent puckering when stitching sheer and stiff fabrics, such as taffeta?

A. Place an inch-wide strip of paper under the seam line while stitching and stitch through the entire thing. After your seam is finished, the paper will tear away quite easily.

He said one man needs medical attention to become able to work. The other has no prospects of a job.

A check with the county welfare director showed that aid to the two families was about 41 per cent of state standards.

"I just don't know what can be done," DiSalle said. "These cases need some individual attention."

The governor said he has received a number of letters which indicate some poor relief recipients are becoming desperate. The two families visited were picked at random, he said.

Good Neighbor Policy Revealed To Rancher

Denzel Goodwin was burning weeds on his ranch when the flames spread out of control and destroyed 4,600 bales of hay, his entire winter's supply.

Later, while his wife was away and Goodwin was rounding up cattle in the hills, friends converged on the ranch with trucks, all loaded with hay. By the time Goodwin got home, 50 tons were stacked in his barn and storage sheds.

Good Neighbor Policy Revealed To Rancher

Denzel Goodwin was burning weeds on his ranch when the flames spread out of control and destroyed 4,600 bales of hay, his entire winter's supply.

Later, while his wife was away and Goodwin was rounding up cattle in the hills, friends converged on the ranch with trucks, all loaded with hay. By the time Goodwin got home, 50 tons were stacked in his barn and storage sheds.

Most Frenchmen Still Logical

It would be hard to think of a further departure from logic than supposedly logical Frenchmen have made in Algeria.

But the newest development in the tangled history of the tragic problem may top everything illogical that has happened so far. It is President Charles de Gaulle's warning to the enraged Moslems in Algeria that unless they quit shooting in the seven-year war he will go ahead and create a new Algeria without them.

IF THIS WERE to pan out, every Algerian would need to know before pulling a trigger whether he was murdering a Gaullist Frenchman, an anti-Gaullist Frenchman, a Moslem, a white Algerian, a brown Frenchman, a Gaullist Algerian or an anti-Gaullist Algerian.

What has been a three-way war up to now would become so complex it might run out of steam by dissipating its own heat. As wars go, even as French politics goes, the whole thing would be such a brazen denial of logic that no Frenchman could afford to have anything to do with it.

And most illogical of all is the seemingly unchallenged observation that Frenchmen as a whole are fed up with their government's ghastly fiasco in Algeria and would prefer to have it cleaned up at any cost, but preferably by granting independence to Algeria.

THEY MIGHT even be glad to settle for an arrangement that would let an independent Algeria deal with the Secret Army Organization now fighting France as zealously as the Algerian Moslems. Among the majority of Frenchmen, then, logic still resides.

Only among disloyal French militarists who refuse to take orders from the official government and dissident politicos with an itch for revolution has there been the lapse from logic that makes the rest of the world wonder if Frenchmen finally are in a mood to jettison their most precious national asset—the ability to think logically when the rest of the world goes mad.

Censorship Can Be Annoying

"I cannot escape the feeling that, as a government, we tend to talk too much," declared Robert A. Lovett, former secretary of defense, in a memorandum filed with the special preparedness subcommittee investigating censorship. "To be sure we are an open society, but we give the impression of being unbuttoned."

This Lovett sizeup will change nothing about Sen. Strom Thurmond's previously announced intention to find a connection between the Communist Conspiracy and people who blue-pencil speeches by military men to keep them in line with policy. But among the witnesses who have read what the former secretary of defense had to say on the subject there must have been a powerful impact. Mr. Lovett sized up the pitfalls of the censorship investigation so comprehensively that no witness testifying in good faith can be blind to the potentialities of danger in ill-advised answers to ill-intended questions.

For example, Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and Sen. Francis D. Case, R-S.D., both should have sensed the potential danger in saying that some of the changes made in the militarists' speeches were "picayunish" and "nonsensical."

That's a safe bet.

Some of the changes made in the masterpieces other men have written—even the masterpieces that ghosts have written for high military officers—are whimsical. Some are wrong-headed.

But this does not mean they are malicious or that they are hot clues to a red plot.

During World War II when servicemen's mail was being censored by an assortment of junior officers, some of whom later grew up to be colonels, generals and admirals, there were more picayunish, nonsensical, whimsical and wrong-headed deletions than a thousand investigating subcommittees would run down in a thousand years.

Servicemen and their wives and families used to get livid about it but there wasn't a thing they could do except grin and admit this was one of the thing patriots had to put up with for the sake of their beloved country. They didn't charge the junior officers with subversion.

Moderationists Have No Voice

An editorial in The Christian Century appraising President Kennedy makes the sweeping statement he has a better record on church-state separation than any chief executive in 30 years.

The editorial is being viewed as a comment in part on the Catholic magazine America's previous appraisal of the nation's first Catholic president in history. America's appraisal of President Kennedy was a bit on the disenchanted side. It suggested he was trying so hard to give no offense to non-Catholics that he was going out of his way to keep members of his faith at a distance; that this attitude was even warping his judgment on the issue of federal aid for parochial schools.

The Christian Century editors have a priceless suggestion — that Protestants should not be judged by extremists any more than Catholics should be judged by extremists.

Moderationists have no voice. When they try to express themselves against the clamor of extremists, they are drowned out.

It is never easy to remember in the midst of a controversy that the main body of opinion is never being represented. When leaders of opinion become engrossed in the pulling and hauling by which issues are decided, in the absence of the calm deliberation that most leaders of opinion shun, no one pays any attention to the Golden Mean.

Everybody is expected to take a position for or against and woe to him who asks for the privilege of being against both pro and con because both are wrong. He becomes a fence-sitter, a namby-pamby, a trimmer and a traitor. Yet the demonstrable fact is that the truth usually is found between the extremes of controversy.

Most Americans are moderationists.

They were moderationists on the religious issue in the 1960 presidential election, insofar as any issue developed.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

New York's newly imported traffic untangler took a swing at doctors and U.N. diplomats for parking habits. Any doctor who uses his auto to get anywhere in a metropolis should consult a doctor. (At the end of the trip he needs one.) He himself is engaging in the stress, strain and worriment which he tells his patients to avoid. He is really raising his own blood-pressure reaching high blood-pressure victims.

By the time he reaches the patient he is in worse shape than the man who called him.

Outside of all this, it is not physicians who are clogging up streets, ignoring every law, ordinance and edict.

Those huge trucks tying up traffic are not transporting doctors.

The trailer-trucks brushing off everybody's rights are not on any mission to help sick and perhaps perform life-or-death operations.

New commissioner also tees off on diplomats for contributing to traffic jams. Here he is on safer ground. If U.N. delegates were sincere in loud arguments for happier and better world they would know their limousines left in crowded streets are no help.

There is something screwbally in picture of diplomats sounding off in U.N. about more orderly world, less chaos and brotherly love while their giant-size autos arouse anger, exasperation and warlike attitudes just outside the building.

"We must stand together for peaceful solutions," roars a delegate, ignoring fact that cops, cabbies, civilian drivers and traffic experts are in a battle to get his car out of their way in street below.

Let the diplomats go by taxi or subway so they can get first hand experience of what's wrong with the world and why its so nervous, irritable and belligerent.

The Inseparables

Is Another Red Space Move Near?

By Stuart H. Loory

NEW YORK

More than six months have passed since a Soviet rocket blazed into space. Maj. Gherman Titov flew the last Russian spacecraft on a 25-hour basket - weave pattern around earth last Aug. 6 and 7. Where have the Russians been since?

Hardly a week passes without someone mentioning that the Russians are tooling up for another space extravaganza. Some observers think they are preparing to send a cosmonaut around the moon and back to earth to demonstrate anew their lead over the United States in big rocket-building.

Actually, all evidence indicates they are not ready to commit a man to such a trip. If they try it, they will be taking enormous risks, risks they have not previously assumed. They might try it with a dog, but it appears that man must stick closer to home, for the time being at least.

HERE'S why:

A trip around the moon and back would take about a week. No man or animal has spent that much time in space, feeling weightless and lonely; enduring confinement and psychological pressures; risking a sudden storm of searing solar radiation, or facing collision with meteorites.

Maj. Yuri Gagarin brought manned space flight to the crawling stage. He proved a man could last out there an hour and a half and come back to earth none the worse for wear.

Maj. Titov had hoped to make it though the walking stage in similar fine fashion. But he failed. He became the first human being to suffer space sickness — nausea; the dizzy, reeling sensation known as vertigo and a queazy stomach.

After Maj. Titov's flight, medical scientists grew aware that they may have to put artificial gravitational pull into spaceships. A steadying tug, they felt, might be necessary to keep a space traveler healthy.

PRESUMABLY the Russians will want to test such an artificial gravity system in earth orbit before they chance a trip by man to the moon. The advantage of an earth orbit test is simply that, should it go wrong, a cosmonaut can be brought down quickly. A similar return to earth from an abortive moon flight would be difficult.

In addition to the biological problems (there may be many more than simply space sickness), the Soviets might not have a spacecraft ready.

For one thing, to make a short (week-long) flight, they would need highly refined guidance systems and engines capable of starting, stopping and re-starting in space to make corrections in the orbit dictated by the guidance.

To date they have flown only two rockets with such start-and-stop engines, as far as we know. Both were intended to send probes to the vicinity of Venus last February. Apparently the engines on the first failed to restart and the probe to Venus never broke away from its orbiting launch platform. The second attempt was successful, but one success in two firings does not provide the kind of reliability necessary to risk a man's life with some degree of assurance.

ONCE the swing around the moon has been completed, the spacecraft will encounter a problem not yet tackled in re-entering the earth's atmosphere and returning safely to the earth's surface. Re-entry from an orbital trip requires deceleration from only 17,000 or 18,000 miles an hour.

Re-entry from a lunar voyage means the craft must slow down from a speed of just under 25,000 miles an hour without melting into a vapor cloud or frying its passenger. Further, the weightless cosmonaut undergoing decelerating forces will suddenly grow to 10 or more times his earthly weight. Will he be able to withstand the buildup of forces that make his blood as heavy as lead? The answer is unknown.

You can assume the Russians, great dog - lovers when it comes to this kind of research, will try it first with a dog. Their Vostok spacecraft are already heavy enough and spacious enough to carry at least two cosmonauts. They may try to send two on a multiple - orbit mission around earth next time to see if they can't get more information on long-term effects of space travel.

Why haven't they been as active as we in the last half year? Part of the answer might lie in what could be their belief in relatively inexpensive experimentation and testing on the ground while saving their big and expensive booster for those missions that cannot be duplicated on earth.

Sensitive Russians

By Rowland Evans Jr.

WASHINGTON

The mounting Soviet farm crisis may be far more serious than Soviet experts there have realized.

In every one of 19 separate broadcasts of highlights of the State of the Union message Jan. 11 by the "Voice," Soviet and Communist block transmitters were triggered into violent jamming of the President's words on American agriculture.

It was clear from the jamming pattern that two of the President's sentences were particularly odious to the Soviet government. They were the following:

"The revolution on our own countryside stands in the sharpest contrast to the repeated farm failures of the Communist nations. Since 1950, our agricultural output per man hour was actually doubled."

ON JAN. 12, Soviet Premier Khrushchev disclosed that Byelorussia fell far short of its production goals last year and may not be able to meet the quotas of 1965.

Mr. Khrushchev has devoted considerable time to the problem of raising farm production in the Soviet Union. The precision with which the costly Soviet jamming apparatus swung into counteraction against the President's recital of U.S. overproduction indicates, according to informed officials, that this nerve-end of the Soviet system may be more painful than previously known.

Last year, when President Kennedy made his first State of the Union speech before Congress, it was broadcast to the Soviet Union and the Communist bloc without any noticeable jamming at all. This year, the section on agriculture and the following other portions were marked for heavy jamming:

1. All references to the Peace Corps and the Food-for-Peace program.

2. The section on the "Alliance for Progress," the program for economic development of Latin America.

3. The section urging a "neutral and independent" Laos.

4. References to the Atlantic community and the common market.

Conspicuously not jammed, according to the now-completed survey by the United States Information Agency, were the portions dealing with the Berlin crisis.

In the past, the costly jamming apparatus often has not been put in action to block speeches and comments by the President. Several weeks ago, President Kennedy permitted Alexei Adzhubei, Mr. Khrushchev's son-in-law and the editor of Izvestia, to interview him. With minor and insignificant changes, the entire transcript of the interview was reproduced in Izvestia and circulated freely around the Soviet Union.

Military Speeches

By James Marlow

Few Top Officers Write Own Addresses

WASHINGTON

One of the key questions-not emphasized so far in the Senate inquiry into censorship of military officers' speeches-is how many of them actually write their own speeches.

It can be reliably stated that few do although the Senate subcommittee got top-brass complaint about the kind of censoring they got and the fact that low-ranking subordinates used the red pencil.

It is doubtful that many of the military speech-makers even see the speeches written for them before they are submitted to the Pentagon censors: the Defense Department's Security Review Office.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara not long ago ordered officers to initial their speeches, as evidence that they at least looked at them, before sending them to the Security Review Office.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, retired chief of naval operations, complained to the subcommittee against review by Pentagon subordinates of what the top officers are going to say.

So did Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, chief of Army research. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent the subcommittee a statement saying: "Let our informed military speak."

But Gen. Thomas D. White, retired Air Force chief, said he didn't mind being reviewed by Pentagon underlings because "most speeches are written by junior officers and reviewed by junior officers of similar rank."

"I rarely personally wrote a speech myself," he said. "There were relatively low-level persons who wrote the speeches in the first place."

This is the usual procedure: A speech to be delivered by, say, an Army officer goes first to the Army security review to be sure it reveals no secrets and is in keeping with presidential policy.

From there it is sent to the Defense Department's Security Review Office.

If along the line there is any conflict, the speech can be submitted to Arthur Sylvester, McNamara's assistant secretary in charge of public affairs or if there is still conflict to McNamara himself.

President Kennedy backs the present policy, which was also Eisenhower's policy although now Eisenhower seems to be having second thoughts about it.

Backing it also are Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Robert A. Lovett, defense secretary under President Harry S. Truman.

This inquiry is the result of charges by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., that the military was being muzzled when it wanted to make anti-Communist talks.

One thing upon which everyone is agreed—including Thurmond—is that the military must be subordinate to civilian control.

The French have been cited as the prime example of the danger that can be created for a republic where the generals go from open opposition to the government to conspiracy against it.

So what the Senate subcommittee hearings boil down to after a week of testimony is not whether top government civilians have a right to censor military men's speeches but only how it should be done.

This then becomes a matter of judgment. That leaves the door wide open for a lot of wrangling but hardly for explosions.

Home To Nairobi

By Truman Twill

The late Ernie Kovaks made no provision for the famed Nairobi trio that he brought to this country. Before these entertainers return to their native land, to spend what remains of their lives in some deadly routine, they will want to collect color movies and slides to show Nairobians what life is like in the United States.

We suggest these scenes:

1. Fertility dances as carried on by mixed groups of lithe and energetic young Yankees, with special emphasis on the most suggestive of the lot — the "twist" — and please note the female is decently covered, thanks to missionary efforts.

2. Nuclear installations at Oak Ridge, one of many places where Americans manufacture wherewithal for deadly nuclear bombs capable of killing millions.

3. The "wheat field" at Gettysburg, where legend says it was possible to walk on dead bodies, so savagely did Americans once destroy one another in the bloody era when their Gizengas, Lumumbas and Tshombes were trying to split up the Union.

4. Multiple-car collision on superhighway, showing dismembered and broken bodies strewn over landscape, this slide to be shown with explanation it is typical roadside scene in America—more people killed each year than in entire civil war in Congo.

5. Group of giggling school girls with "bubble" hair-dos, eye shadow, red paint on lips, colored fingernails, misshapen skirts and sneakers. This scrap of evidence about darkest America to be accompanied by explanation that American young females never have considered it becoming to wear a bone through the nose or a plate inserted in their lower lip like the lovely Ubangis, but they will come to it.

6. Night club with drunks lolling on each other, females in varying stages of dishabille and jungle beat in background, complete with girlie show—Sattidy nite in Ameddica.

8. Football game between Adorable U and Electoral College.

9. Boxing match.

10. Indianapolis Speedway on Memorial Day.

11. Mob of teen-age girls pawing sex idol.

12. Demonstration in favor of possible presidential candidate at political convention.

13. Action sequence from red-blooded private-eye show, to prove that kiddies in America come by homicidal savvy naturally.

15. Street riot in southern city in throes of desegregation agonies.

The Nairobi trio will not want to go home without pictorial evidence that whatever the Africans can do in the way of violence the Americans have done or can do better, with the aid of clothing, machinery and their lengthening tradition of civilization.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A new $3,500 all-white fire truck, with chrome trim, was received by the Chester fire department.

George Hargraves of Pennsylvania Ave. was among the first-year men eligible for Phi Eta Sigma, freshmen honorary scholastic society at Ohio State University.

Mrs. William Morgan was elected for her third term as president of the Mary Hammond Class of the Wellsville First Methodist Church.

Odd Facts

The sardine - like packing of New York City's subways during rush hours has rated many headlines. But San Francisco's 30 ancient cable cars are a very good runner-up. As many as 150 people crowd into a cable car built for 30 passengers during rush hours, clinging like insects to the running boards and pressing against the perspiring brakeman as the car lurches down the city's famous hills. A total of 34,000 San Franciscans take this roller-coaster ride to and from work every day.

When they are courting, some birds hold bills. Puffins nibble at each other's bills. Ravens lock bills in a gesture suggesting a kiss.

New York's newly imported traffic untangler took a swing at doctors and U.N. diplomats for parking habits. Any doctor who uses his auto to get anywhere in a metropolis should consult a doctor. (At the end of the trip he needs one.) He himself is engaging in the stress, strain and worriment which he tells his patients to avoid. He is really raising his own blood-pressure reaching high blood-pressure victims.

By the time he reaches the patient he is in worse shape than the man who called him.

Outside of all this, it is not physicians who are clogging up streets, ignoring every law, ordinance and edict.

Those huge trucks tying up traffic are not transporting doctors.

The trailer-trucks brushing off everybody's rights are not on any mission to help sick and perhaps perform life-or-death operations.

New commissioner also tees off on diplomats for contributing to traffic jams. Here he is on safer ground. If U.N. delegates were sincere in loud arguments for happier and better world they would know their limousines left in crowded streets are no help.

There is something screwbally in picture of diplomats sounding off in U.N. about more orderly world, less chaos and brotherly love while their giant-size autos arouse anger, exasperation and warlike attitudes just outside the building.

"We must stand together for peaceful solutions," roars a delegate, ignoring fact that cops, cabbies, civilian drivers and traffic experts are in a battle to get his car out of their way in street below.

Let the diplomats go by taxi or subway so they can get first hand experience of what's wrong with the world and why its so nervous, irritable and belligerent.

The Inseparables

Is Another Red Space Move Near?

By Stuart H. Loory

NEW YORK

More than six months have passed since a Soviet rocket blazed into space. Maj. Gherman Titov flew the last Russian spacecraft on a 25-hour basket - weave pattern around earth last Aug. 6 and 7. Where have the Russians been since?

Hardly a week passes without someone mentioning that the Russians are tooling up for another space extravaganza. Some observers think they are preparing to send a cosmonaut around the moon and back to earth to demonstrate anew their lead over the United States in big rocket-building.

Actually, all evidence indicates they are not ready to commit a man to such a trip. If they try it, they will be taking enormous risks, risks they have not previously assumed. They might try it with a dog, but it appears that man must stick closer to home, for the time being at least.

HERE'S why:

A trip around the moon and back would take about a week. No man or animal has spent that much time in space, feeling weightless and lonely; enduring confinement and psychological pressures; risking a sudden storm of searing solar radiation, or facing collision with meteorites.

Maj. Yuri Gagarin brought manned space flight to the crawling stage. He proved a man could last out there an hour and a half and come back to earth none the worse for wear.

Maj. Titov had hoped to make it though the walking stage in similar fine fashion. But he failed. He became the first human being to suffer space sickness — nausea; the dizzy, reeling sensation known as vertigo and a queazy stomach.

After Maj. Titov's flight, medical scientists grew aware that they may have to put artificial gravitational pull into spaceships. A steadying tug, they felt, might be necessary to keep a space traveler healthy.

PRESUMABLY the Russians will want to test such an artificial gravity system in earth orbit before they chance a trip by man to the moon. The advantage of an earth orbit test is simply that, should it go wrong, a cosmonaut can be brought down quickly. A similar return to earth from an abortive moon flight would be difficult.

In addition to the biological problems (there may be many more than simply space sickness), the Soviets might not have a spacecraft ready.

For one thing, to make a short (week-long) flight, they would need highly refined guidance systems and engines capable of starting, stopping and re-starting in space to make corrections in the orbit dictated by the guidance.

To date they have flown only two rockets with such start-and-stop engines, as far as we know. Both were intended to send probes to the vicinity of Venus last February. Apparently the engines on the first failed to restart and the probe to Venus never broke away from its orbiting launch platform. The second attempt was successful, but one success in two firings does not provide the kind of reliability necessary to risk a man's life with some degree of assurance.

ONCE the swing around the moon has been completed, the spacecraft will encounter a problem not yet tackled in re-entering the earth's atmosphere and returning safely to the earth's surface. Re-entry from an orbital trip requires deceleration from only 17,000 or 18,000 miles an hour.

Re-entry from a lunar voyage means the craft must slow down from a speed of just under 25,000 miles an hour without melting into a vapor cloud or frying its passenger. Further, the weightless cosmonaut undergoing decelerating forces will suddenly grow to 10 or more times his earthly weight. Will he be able to withstand the buildup of forces that make his blood as heavy as lead? The answer is unknown.

You can assume the Russians, great dog - lovers when it comes to this kind of research, will try it first with a dog. Their Vostok spacecraft are already heavy enough and spacious enough to carry at least two cosmonauts. They may try to send two on a multiple - orbit mission around earth next time to see if they can't get more information on long-term effects of space travel.

Why haven't they been as active as we in the last half year? Part of the answer might lie in what could be their belief in relatively inexpensive experimentation and testing on the ground while saving their big and expensive booster for those missions that cannot be duplicated on earth.

Sensitive Russians

WASHINGTON

The mounting Soviet farm crisis may be far more serious than Soviet experts there have realized.

This, at least, was the judgment of top officials now studying an unusual pattern of Soviet jamming against Voice of America broadcasts of President Kennedy's State of the Union address.

In every one of 19 separate broadcasts of highlights of the State of the Union message Jan. 11 by the "Voice," Soviet and Communist block transmitters were triggered into violent jamming of the President's words on American agriculture.

It was clear from the jamming pattern that two of the President's sentences were particularly odious to the Soviet government. They were the following:

"The revolution on our own countryside stands in the sharpest contrast to the repeated farm failures of the Communist nations. Since 1950, our agricultural output per man hour was actually doubled."

ON JAN. 12, Soviet Premier Khrushchev disclosed that Byelorussia fell far short of its production goals last year and may not be able to meet the quotas of 1965.

Mr. Khrushchev has devoted considerable time to the problem of raising farm production in the Soviet Union. The precision with which the costly Soviet jamming apparatus swung into counteraction against the President's recital of U.S. overproduction indicates, according to informed officials, that this nerve-end of the Soviet system may be more painful than previously known.

Last year, when President Kennedy made his first State of the Union speech before Congress, it was broadcast to the Soviet Union and the Communist bloc without any noticeable jamming at all. This year, the section on agriculture and the following other portions were marked for heavy jamming:

1. All references to the Peace Corps and the Food-for-Peace program.

2. The section on the "Alliance for Progress," the program for economic development of Latin America.

3. The section urging a "neutral and independent" Laos.

4. References to the Atlantic community and the common market.

Conspicuously not jammed, according to the now-completed survey by the United States Information Agency, were the portions dealing with the Berlin crisis.

In the past, the costly jamming apparatus often has not been put in action to block speeches and comments by the President. Several weeks ago, President Kennedy permitted Alexei Adzhubei, Mr. Khrushchev's son-in-law and the editor of Izvestia, to interview him. With minor and insignificant changes, the entire transcript of the interview was reproduced in Izvestia and circulated freely around the Soviet Union.

Military Speeches

By James Marlow

Few Top Officers Write Own Addresses

WASHINGTON

One of the key questions-not emphasized so far in the Senate inquiry into censorship of military officers' speeches-is how many of them actually write their own speeches.

It can be reliably stated that few do although the Senate subcommittee got top-brass complaint about the kind of censoring they got and the fact that low-ranking subordinates used the red pencil.

It is doubtful that many of the military speech-makers even see the speeches written for them before they are submitted to the Pentagon censors: the Defense Department's Security Review Office.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara not long ago ordered officers to initial their speeches, as evidence that they at least looked at them, before sending them to the Security Review Office.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, retired chief of naval operations, complained to the subcommittee against review by Pentagon subordinates of what the top officers are going to say.

So did Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, chief of Army research. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent the subcommittee a statement saying: "Let our informed military speak."

But Gen. Thomas D. White, retired Air Force chief, said he didn't mind being reviewed by Pentagon underlings because "most speeches are written by junior officers and reviewed by junior officers of similar rank."

"I rarely personally wrote a speech myself," he said. "There were relatively low-level persons who wrote the speeches in the first place."

This is the usual procedure: A speech to be delivered by, say, an Army officer goes first to the Army security review to be sure it reveals no secrets and is in keeping with presidential policy.

From there it is sent to the Defense Department's Security Review Office.

If along the line there is any conflict, the speech can be submitted to Arthur Sylvester, McNamara's assistant secretary in charge of public affairs or if there is still conflict to McNamara himself.

President Kennedy backs the present policy, which was also Eisenhower's policy although now Eisenhower seems to be having second thoughts about it.

Backing it also are Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Robert A. Lovett, defense secretary under President Harry S. Truman.

This inquiry is the result of charges by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., that the military was being muzzled when it wanted to make anti-Communist talks.

One thing upon which everyone is agreed—including Thurmond—is that the military must be subordinate to civilian control.

The French have been cited as the prime example of the danger that can be created for a republic where the generals go from open opposition to the government to conspiracy against it.

So what the Senate subcommittee hearings boil down to after a week of testimony is not whether top government civilians have a right to censor military men's speeches but only how it should be done.

This then becomes a matter of judgment. That leaves the door wide open for a lot of wrangling but hardly for explosions.

Home To Nairobi

By Truman Twill

The late Ernie Kovaks made no provision for the famed Nairobi trio that he brought to this country. Before these entertainers return to their native land, to spend what remains of their lives in some deadly routine, they will want to collect color movies and slides to show Nairobians what life is like in the United States.

We suggest these scenes:

1. Fertility dances as carried on by mixed groups of lithe and energetic young Yankees, with special emphasis on the most suggestive of the lot — the "twist" — and please note the female is decently covered, thanks to missionary efforts.

2. Nuclear installations at Oak Ridge, one of many places where Americans manufacture wherewithal for deadly nuclear bombs capable of killing millions.

3. The "wheat field" at Gettysburg, where legend says it was possible to walk on dead bodies, so savagely did Americans once destroy one another in the bloody era when their Gizengas, Lumumbas and Tshombes were trying to split up the Union.

4. Multiple-car collision on superhighway, showing dismembered and broken bodies strewn over landscape, this slide to be shown with explanation it is typical roadside scene in America—more people killed each year than in entire civil war in Congo.

5. Group of giggling school girls with "bubble" hair-dos, eye shadow, red paint on lips, colored fingernails, misshapen skirts and sneakers. This scrap of evidence about darkest America to be accompanied by explanation that American young females never have considered it becoming to wear a bone through the nose or a plate inserted in their lower lip like the lovely Ubangis, but they will come to it.

6. Night club with drunks lolling on each other, females in varying stages of dishabille and jungle beat in background, complete with girlie show—Sattidy nite in Amedica.

8. Football game between Adorable U and Electoral College.

9. Boxing match.

10. Indianapolis Speedway on Memorial Day.

11. Mob of teen-age girls pawing sex idol.

12. Demonstration in favor of possible presidential candidate at political convention.

13. Action sequence from red-blooded private-eye show, to prove that kiddies in America come by homicidal savvy naturally.

15. Street riot in southern city in throes of desegregation agonies.

The Nairobi trio will not want to go home without pictorial evidence that whatever the Africans can do in the way of violence the Americans have done or can do better, with the aid of clothing, machinery and their lengthening tradition of civilization.

Odd Facts

The sardine - like packing of New York City's subways during rush hours has rated many headlines. But San Francisco's 30 ancient cable cars are a very good runner-up. As many as 150 people crowd into a cable car built for 30 passengers during rush hours, clinging like insects to the running boards and pressing against the perspiring brakeman as the car lurches down the city's famous hills. A total of 34,000 San Franciscans take this roller-coaster ride to and from work every day.

When they are courting, some birds hold bills. Puffins nibble at each other's bills. Ravens lock bills in a gesture suggesting a kiss.

Winter Hits Dixie Coast

A winter storm has struck the Dixie coast from North Carolina to Maryland with icy rain and up to a foot of snow. It closed hundreds of schools and left many roads treacherous before swooping out to sea.

The storm, whipped by strong winds, lumbered into North Carolina early Sunday. It swept up the coast through southern Virginia and hopped over to the Maryland Eastern Shore.

Washington, which trembles at a snow forecast, was spared.

South of the snow belt, rain poured down along the coast as far as Georgia. Flash flooding was reported to have struck the Rocky River at Norwood, N.C.

In Virginia, Richmond — the capital of the Old Dominion—got 8 inches, Blackstone 10 inches. The heaviest fall — 12 inches — was measured at Chatham. Norfolk had four inches and Fredericksburg and points north had no snow at all.

North Carolina fared about the same with snow ranging from a light fall to 10 inches at Reidsville, near the Virginia border.

The storm buffetted Southern Maryland and the lower Eastern Shore with the Pocomoke City area bearing the brunt — six inches. Slight accumulations were reported as far north as Bridgeville, Del.

Thousands of youngsters got a holiday today as hundreds of schools in the snow area were ordered closed.

Neighbor Slays Man Threatening Bride-To-Be, 19

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A neighbor, fearing for the safety of a young bride-to-be, shot and killed a man he saw smashing the girl's bathroom door Sunday, police reported.

Lynn Ann Donatoni, 19, had returned from a day of wedding-gift shopping and an evening bridal shower. She was preparing for bed, police said, when Amelio V. Castorena III, 25, appeared at the door.

"He was terribly mad about something," the girl told police later. She said she ran to the bathroom and locked herself in. She said Castorena began battering the bathroom door.

Lynn Ann said she opened a window and screamed for help. A neighbor, Gerald Scott, 63, awakened. He grabbed a 22-caliber pistol and ran to a driveway between the two houses.

He said he saw Castorena scuffle with the screaming girl.

Scott fired once. The bullet struck Castorena in the chest, killing him instantly. The girl told police she had no idea why Castorena would attack her. Police questioned Scott, then released him.

But Lynn Ann will have no use for the gifts she bought earlier in the day.

Castorena was her fiance and they were to marry Feb. 14.

The shop occupies the first floor of the two-story frame structure at the corner of Main and 5th Sts. The previous owners included Mrs. Dorothy Shinton and John Albaneso. The Pete Amato Real Estate agency in Wellsville handled the transaction.

Texan Starts House Duties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Democrat Graham B. Purcell Jr. takes his seat in Congress today with praise for the Kennedy administration and some reservations about two of its programs.

Purcell's overwhelming victory Saturday over Joe Meissner, a conservative Republican businessman, clearly was a sweet one for the Democrats.

In his campaign Purcell promised support for the Kennedy administration.

However, in a post-election press conference at Wichita Falls, the 42-year-old state district judge listed two reservations involving administration policy.

"I am not in favor of federal aid to education and I am not in favor of medical aid under Social Security," he said.

Thief Gets Cold Feet—Clerk Regains Shoes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A thief who tried to take a pair of shoes from the Ontario department store Sunday got cold feet before he was through.

Steve Wilson, a clerk, told police he saw a man come into the store, remove the shoes he was wearing and put on a new pair he took from a display rack.

Wilson followed the man out of the store and managed to retrive the shoes after a struggle.

Neighbor Slays Man Threatening Bride-To-Be, 19

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A neighbor, fearing for the safety of a young bride-to-be, shot and killed a man he saw smashing the girl's bathroom door Sunday, police reported.

Lynn Ann Donatoni, 19, had returned from a day of wedding-gift shopping and an evening bridal shower. She was preparing for bed, police said, when Amelio V. Castorena III, 25, appeared at the door.

"He was terribly mad about something," the girl told police later. She said she ran to the bathroom and locked herself in. She said Castorena began battering the bathroom door.

Lynn Ann said she opened a window and screamed for help. A neighbor, Gerald Scott, 63, awakened. He grabbed a 22-caliber pistol and ran to a driveway between the two houses.

He said he saw Castorena scuffle with the screaming girl.

Scott fired once. The bullet struck Castorena in the chest, killing him instantly. The girl told police she had no idea why Castorena would attack her. Police questioned Scott, then released him.

But Lynn Ann will have no use for the gifts she bought earlier in the day.

Castorena was her fiance and they were to marry Feb. 14.

Texan Starts House Duties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Democrat Graham B. Purcell Jr. takes his seat in Congress today with praise for the Kennedy administration and some reservations about two of its programs.

Purcell's overwhelming victory Saturday over Joe Meissner, a conservative Republican businessman, clearly was a sweet one for the Democrats.

However, in a post-election press conference at Wichita Falls, the 42-year-old state district judge listed two reservations involving administration policy.

"I am not in favor of federal aid to education and I am not in favor of medical aid under Social Security," he said.

Thief Gets Cold Feet— Clerk Regains Shoes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A thief who tried to take a pair of shoes from the Ontario department store Sunday got cold feet before he was through.

Steve Wilson, a clerk, told police he saw a man come into the store, remove the shoes he was wearing and put on a new pair he took from a display rack.

Wilson followed the man out of the store and managed to retrive the shoes after a struggle.

The thief fled in his stocking feet.

Council Plans Another Vote On Fiscal Bill

A special meeting of City Council has been scheduled tonight at 7:30 to give second reading to a controversial ordinance providing an appropriation of $800 to make two payments of $400 to help repay a federal grant of $8,000 for repair of flood damage to the River Rd., Mayor Bert H. Goodballet announced this morning.

The ordinance also allocates $1,000 to make refunds to individuals and business places who overpaid their 1961 city income tax.

Mayor Goodballet said he called the meeting at the request of Council members since Council is without a president pending an appointment by the mayor.

The ordinance authorizing the two monthly payments was given first reading with a 5-2 vote at Council's Jan. 15 meeting following a lengthy debate.

The controversial legislation was supported by Councilmen Kenneth Berg, Edward Massey, Robert W. Sample Jr., George E. Willshaw and S. James Welch, while Councilmen Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray opposed it.

Duffy and Murray said they opposed only the $800 appropriation to repay the federal loan but were informed by Willshaw, president pro tem, they were required to vote on the ordinance as a whole since the two items could not be separated.

Men Injured In 2 Mishaps

Two local men were injured in two traffic crashes investigated over the weekend by the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

A city motorist is in "fair" condition today in City Hospital with injuries received in a crash Sunday afternoon, while a Wellsville man was treated at the hospital for injuries received in an accident Saturday night near Wellsville.

John F. Morgan, 66, of 1010 St. Clair Ave., is in "fair" condition with possible fractures of the left knee and hip received in an accident on Beaver Creek Rd. Sunday at 1:20 p. m.

The patrol said Morgan's northbound car went off the right side of the road and onto a soft berm, then went across the road and into the parked car of John R. Goempel, 18, of 207 Haywood St.

The mishap occurred two miles northwest of Route 7, the patrol said. No arrests were made.

In a two-car collision Saturday at 9:15 p. m. on Township Road 797, off Route 39 two miles from Wellsville, Sherdie Pardee, 28, of 1615 Riverside Ave., received lacerations of the chin and lower lip and a possible fractured jaw.

Patron, 28, Slain At Cleveland Bar

CLEVELAND (AP)—A man who reportedly was refused liquor was shot to death in a tavern fight Sunday.

Dead is Robert Brown, 28, of Cleveland.

Held for investigation in the shooting is Homer Williams, 49, of Cleveland, a porter and part-time bartender.

Williams told police Brown insisted on being served whisky, but was refused. Later, Williams said, he started for the door to go home with a .38-caliber revolver and a screw driver under his coat.

Brown jumped him and both grappled on the floor, Williams said. Police quoted Williams as saying a patron yelled during the scuffle: "Look out — he's got a knife."

Detectives said they found Brown on the barroom floor with one gunshot wound from a revolver and an open pocket knife across his palm.

Calvin, a member of the Executive Council of the AFL-CIO, in the last few years had represented the federal government on special assignments as a labor specialist to India and South America. He was born near Grand Bay, New Brunswick.

Council Plans Another Vote On Fiscal Bill

A special meeting of City Council has been scheduled tonight at 7:30 to give second reading to a controversial ordinance providing an appropriation of $800 to make two payments of $400 to help repay a federal grant of $8,000 for repair of flood damage to the River Rd., Mayor Bert H. Goodballet announced this morning.

The ordinance also allocates $1,000 to make refunds to individuals and business places who overpaid their 1961 city income tax.

Mayor Goodballet said he called the meeting at the request of Council members since Council is without a president pending an appointment by the mayor.

The ordinance authorizing the two monthly payments was given first reading with a 5-2 vote at Council's Jan. 15 meeting following a lengthy debate.

The controversial legislation was supported by Councilmen Kenneth Berg, Edward Massey, Robert W. Sample Jr., George E. Willshaw and S. James Welch, while Councilmen Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray opposed it.

Duffy and Murray said they opposed only the $800 appropriation to repay the federal loan but were informed by Willshaw, president pro tem, they were required to vote on the ordinance as a whole since the two items could not be separated.

Men Injured In 2 Mishaps

Two local men were injured in two traffic crashes investigated over the weekend by the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

A city motorist is in "fair" condition today in City Hospital with injuries received in a crash Sunday afternoon, while a Wellsville man was treated at the hospital for injuries received in an accident Saturday night near Wellsville.

John F. Morgan, 66, of 1010 St. Clair Ave., is in "fair" condition with possible fractures of the left knee and hip received in an accident on Beaver Creek Rd. Sunday at 1:20 p. m.

The patrol said Morgan's northbound car went off the right side of the road and onto a soft berm, then went across the road and into the parked car of John R. Goempel, 18, of 207 Haywood St.

The mishap occurred two miles northwest of Route 7, the patrol said. No arrests were made.

In a two-car collision Saturday at 9:15 p. m. on Township Road 797, off Route 39 two miles from Wellsville, Sherdie Pardee, 28, of 1615 Riverside Ave., received lacerations of the chin and lower lip and a possible fractured jaw.

The patrol said Pardee was a passenger in the eastbound car operated by Hubert Cline Jr., 29, of 1615 Riverside Ave.

Cline's car collided with the halted car of Melvin B. McCuen, 45, of 1036 Anderson Ave., Wellsville. Pardee was treated at City Hospital and later released.

Morticians Find 'Dead' Cleveland Dentist Still Alive

A relative said a doctor was called and pronounced the 37-year-old dentist dead at 11 a.m. Sunday.

A rabbi was called to comfort the family.

Then two men came from a funeral home to take the body. As they wheeled Dr. Streem into the preparations room at the Miller Funeral Home, Larry Miller shouted: "My god, he's breathing!" That was at 12:15 p.m.

Miller dashed back to the ambulance for the oxygen tank while his brother, Leon, gave closed heart massage.

The doctor is a dental writer for the Cleveland Plain Dealer and has suffered from multiple sclerosis for more than 10 years. He was found apparently dead by a male nurse, who called members of the family.

3 Bills Await Passage In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — Extension of the consumers' sales tax increase voted a year ago and two other administration tax bills were up for Senate passage today as the Legislature opened the last full week of its 30-day session. Administration leaders expected all three to pass easily.

Altogether, the three bills involve about $10.6 million of the $11.4 million needed to balance the pending general revenue budget. All three call for extension for another fiscal year of tax increases now scheduled to expire June 30.

By far the biggest, accounting for $9.5 million, is the bill to extend the increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the consumers' sales tax rate on sales above $1.

The other bills would prolong an increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the use tax, a levy on out-of-state purchases, and a boost from 2 to 3 per cent in the insurance premium tax.

The insurance premium tax bill already has passed the House. The other two tax measures still would have to be approved by that chamber after Senate passage.

The House, meanwhile, had its own consumers' sales and use tax bills — identical to the Senate bills — at amendment stage today.

Up for House adoption — with a two-thirds vote required — was a resolution to submit a constitutional amendment to the voters in November. The amendment, proposed by Del. H. Laben White Jr., D-Harrison, simply would make the constitution conform with House practice of the past 61 years in apportioning its own membership.

After each census, the Legislature is required by the state constitution to reapportion its membership on the basis of the new population figures. As to the House, the constitution says any county with less than three-fifths of the population base for one delegate shall be attached to one or more contiguous counties to form a delegate district.

But in actual practice the state hasn't had any delegate districts since 1901. The present practice of giving every county, regardless of population, at least one delegate began that year.

Attorney General C. Donald Robertson says the practice is unconstitutional. To be constitutional, in Robertson's view, a House reapportionment on the basis of the 1960 census would have to put 13 rural counties into delegate districts to share delegates with other counties.

The constitutional amendment proposed by White, however, would repeal the delegate district requirement and write into the constitution the long - followed guarantee of at least one delegate for every county.

State Gives $112,392 To County Relief Fund

Columbiana County has received $112,392 for its poor relief fund out of two distributions totaling $11 million made by State Auditor James A. Rhodes at Columbus.

Another $7 milllion will be distributed to counties throughout Ohio in February, Rhodes said.

The bulk of the funds were paid out of a 1.65 per cent excise tax paid by public utilities, the auditor explained. This source yielded over $16 million in 1961.

Hays Speaks To Youth Unit In Carrollton

A highlight of the annual Steubenville District Senior High Midwinter Institute of the Methodist Church Friday and Saturday at the Carrollton First Church was a talk on the Communist situation by Rep. Wayne L. Hays.

The congressman addressed the young people Saturday morning, relating his experiences in a meeting with Khrushchev seven years ago.

Another feature of Saturday morning's session was a discussion on the theme, "Communism vs. Christianity," with four youths participating — Miles Bell of Cadiz, Dorothea Hays of the host church, Paul Morgan of Lisbon and Betty Folger of Steubenville.

The institute opened with a dinner Friday evening, after which the Rev. Ray Butler of the Drummond Church in Cadiz gave the keynote address.

The dinner was followed with various groups discussing subtopics on the general theme with special leadership.

Leaders included the Rev. William Longsworth of the Salem church, the Rev. George R. Sweeney of the Columbiana church, the Rev. Elmer Stratton of the Calvary church in Steubenville, and the Rev. Robert Henthorn, director of the Millmen's Hostel in Steubenville.

The session ended Saturday morning following a communion service at 11. The Rev. Carl Beighley, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church here and youth director of the Steubenville District, the Rev. C. E. Achberger, host pastor, and Rev. Bowser, were in charge.

About 150 attended the two-day session.

A sub-district rally will be held May 6 with each sub-district holding its own rally.

The summer institute will be held July 30-Aug. 4 at Camp Aldersgate, near Carrollton. The Rev. William Brown of Lisbon will act as dean.

Keep In Trim

Frustrated Mother Needs Encouragement

The young mother in today's story is in an unhappy fix and doesn't know how to cope with her weight problem. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"I'm almost at the point of being desperate. I am 22, 5 feet 2, and weigh 195 pounds. I have four children, all under five.

"I want to lose, I've tried counting calories, liquid diets and competing with others. People in my family are always asking me when am I going to start losing...I weighed 118 pounds when I married. I am active in club work and socially but even these activities fail to give me inspiration.

"When people say things to me such as 'We heavy people have to watch what we wear,' it makes me so mad, or hurt that I decide to heck with it and keep on eating the way I want to.

"I HAD TO pour this out to someone. When I talk to my husband about dieting, he just says, 'Well you can do it if you want to,' or, 'You don't look so bad when you are dressed up.' My husband works hard and long hours, so isn't home much.

"I didn't have a weight problem until I was expecting our second baby. I get tired and depressed and there are times I just want to sit down and have a good cry," she concluded.

From your long letter, here condensed, let's subtract the clues. You feel you are on a treadmill and that at 22 your youth is behind. When other overweights include you in their class it galls, for they are older.

Family members show disapproval. Your husband is the only one you are willing to talk this over with and you are afraid he is not really interested. Feeling dejected, you turn to food.

Now for enlightenment. If you think your husband does not care, you are wrong. He is kind, not indifferent and he cares deeply. Knowing how difficult it is for you to diet, or accept criticism about your weight, he hesitates to say much.

The solution: Recognize that some of the compulsive eating is a reaction to criticism. It is important to try to ferret out why you react in this harmful way.

Honest fact - facing can often clear the way for action. Secondly, do you really want to follow a protective diet, or do you want some "magic" to reduce your weight? You must be willing to take the needed action.

TALK THIS all over with your husband in a constructive way. Let him know you want and need his support in breaking the habit of compulsive eating.

Evidence of his interest can be an enormous help. Then you must do your part. All the best years of your life are still ahead...make them wonderful!

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for "Choose To Lose Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Beaver Plans Grain Signup

BEAVER — A signup of Beaver County farmers under the 1962 feed grain program is scheduled Feb. 5 through March 30, according to Mark Hilliker, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The feed grain program for 1962 covers corn and grain sorghum. Hilliker said the slogan for this year's program is: "Continue to do in '62 what you've begun in 1961." The slogan refers to the title of a program leaflet which will be distributed to feed grain growers throughout the county.

The chairman listed the following principal features of the 1962 program: (1) Voluntary participation; (2) diversion of not less than 20 percent of the base acreage of corn and grain sorghum (1959-60 average), as adjusted; (3) compliance with the farm's barley feed grain base; (4) compliance with the corn and grain sorghum base and the barley base for any other farm on which the producer shares in the crops; (5) payment — based on yields and support prices — to be made on acreage diverted from feed grains to soil-conserving uses; (6) advance payments — up to about half of the total amount — made at signup time; (7) price support on the normal production of corn, grain sorghum and barley and on oats and rye to be received only by co-operators in the feed grain program.

Hilliker emphasized that growers must file an application to take part in the program and then must comply with the program's provisions in order to receive the benefits.

A skit, "The Beauty Ranch," will highlight the afternoon program, with members of Junior and Senior Women's Clubs participating. Persons interested in participating are asked to communicate with Mrs. Clifford Teets, Rochester, director.

Serving on committees will be Mrs. Calvin Dunlap of Ohio View and Mrs. Eugene Fritz of Midland.

Journal Penned By Early Doctor Lists Area Visits

A newly - discovered journal and diary penned more than a century ago by a pioneer Pittsburgh doctor shows that he sometimes ranged as far afield as Lisbon and Columbiana and once made a steamboat trip from Wellsville to Pittsburgh after being kicked by his riding horse.

The journal, kept by Dr. Jay Dimmitt, was found in a trash can in North Side Pittsburgh and later turned over to the late Dr. Edward C. Reif, dean emeritus of the University of Pittsburgh School of Pharmacy. His widow said she plans to present it to a medical library.

The physician's journal records several visits to Columbiana and Lisbon — then New Lisbon — to handle affairs as the executor of the estate of an Isaac Williams. The record, mostly listing visits to patients, the medication or treatment administered and the fees charged, covers the period from 1844 to 1847.

His misadventure with the horse forms one of the entries. It says that he was hurt on March 20, 1847, while on a trip to Ohio. The journal says:

"This day got badly kicked by my bay mare (on the leg and back) and remained bedfast at J. K. Snodgrasses till Monday the 29th on that day was taken to Wellsville. And got home on steam boat next morning 3 o'clock."

Pittsburgh authorities said there is no record of the physician in that city after 1848, when he either died or moved elsewhere to practice.

BEAVER FALLS — Two hundred attended a conference Saturday at the Brodhead Hotel in which discussion centered on potential benefits of federal and state programs for future development of Beaver County municipalities.

Participating were federal and state redevelopment officials and other experts in urban renewal programs.

The conference was sponsored by Beaver County commissioners, the Redevelopment Authority, the Industrial Authority, the Planning and Zoning Commission and the Municipal Authority.

Beaver Plans Grain Signup

BEAVER — A signup of Beaver County farmers under the 1962 feed grain program is scheduled Feb. 5 through March 30, according to Mark Hilliker, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The feed grain program for 1962 covers corn and grain sorghum. Hilliker said the slogan for this year's program is: "Continue to do in '62 what you've begun in 1961." The slogan refers to the title of a program leaflet which will be distributed to feed grain growers throughout the county.

The chairman listed the following principal features of the 1962 program: (1) Voluntary participation; (2) diversion of not less than 20 percent of the base acreage of corn and grain sorghum (1959-60 average), as adjusted; (3) compliance with the farm's barley feed grain base; (4) compliance with the corn and grain sorghum base and the barley base for any other farm on which the producer shares in the crops; (5) payment — based on yields and support prices — to be made on acreage diverted from feed grains to soil-conserving uses; (6) advance payments — up to about half of the total amount — made at signup time; (7) price support on the normal production of corn, grain sorghum and barley and on oats and rye to be received only by co-operators in the feed grain program.

Hilliker emphasized that growers must file an application to take part in the program and then must comply with the program's provisions in order to receive the benefits.

Journal Penned By Early Doctor Lists Area Visits

A newly - discovered journal and diary penned more than a century ago by a pioneer Pittsburgh doctor shows that he sometimes ranged as far afield as Lisbon and Columbiana and once made a steamboat trip from Wellsville to Pittsburgh after being kicked by his riding horse.

The journal, kept by Dr. Jay Dimmitt, was found in a trash can in North Side Pittsburgh and later turned over to the late Dr. Edward C. Reif, dean emeritus of the University of Pittsburgh School of Pharmacy. His widow said she plans to present it to a medical library.

The physician's journal records several visits to Columbiana and Lisbon — then New Lisbon — to handle affairs as the executor of the estate of an Isaac Williams. The record, mostly listing visits to patients, the medication or treatment administered and the fees charged, covers the period from 1844 to 1847.

His misadventure with the horse forms one of the entries. It says that he was hurt on March 20, 1847, while on a trip to Ohio. The journal says:

"This day got badly kicked by my bay mare (on the leg and back) and remained bedfast at J. K. Snodgrasses till Monday the 29th on that day was taken to Wellsville. And got home on steam boat next morning 3 o'clock."

Pittsburgh authorities said there is no record of the physician in that city after 1848, when he either died or moved elsewhere to practice.

Driver Given Jail Sentence

The father of eight children was given a mandatory three-day jail term today in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Thomas J. Sullivan, 770 Dresden Ave., drew the term plus a fine of $200 and costs and suspension of his driver's license for six months from Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Sullivan appeared in court this morning still limping from the effects of injuries he suffered Jan. 23 when he was arrested by police after his auto hit the rear of a halted car of Norman J. Delaney of Williams Ave. at Lisbon St. and N. Shady Ln. He was released from City Hospital Sunday.

Judge Chertoff originally sentenced the defendant to five days in jail, but reduced the term to three days after Sullivan's request to serve the time after recuperating from his injuries was denied.

Cornelius M. Tarver, 74, of 1792 Pennsylvania Ave., also released from the hospital yesterday after being critically injured in an accident Jan. 11 on Harvey Ave., notified the court he wasn't feeling well enough to appear to answer to charges of reckless driving and driving without an operator's permit. No new hearing date has been set.

He was cited by police after his pickup truck rammed the rear of a parked car on Harvey Ave. and drove it into a utility pole 30 feet away.

Two motorists were fined on charges filed by the State Highway Patrol.

Wayne R. Lowry of Weirton drew a fine of $20 and costs on a speeding charge. He was cited Friday night for traveling 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

The 'Wicked' Truth Comes Out At Last

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Troy Gatlin, who looks enough like Vice President Lyndon Johnson to be his twin, was dining with his wife in a swank restaurant.

As the Gatlins were leaving, a woman member of the group rose, strode up and addressed him as the vice president.

"S-ssh," Gatlin said, nodding toward his wife. "The lady with me is NOT MRS. JOHNSON!"

Strange Car Followed Woman Very Closely

GLOBE, Ariz. (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Kunz thought something was wrong as she drove away from a Globe market in her pickup.

A strange car was following her very closely.

She drove three blocks and the car still was right behind her.

Pulling over to investigate, she discovered she had been towing a car whose bumper had become lodged in a trailer hitch on the pickup.

Where There's A Will

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Traffic was so conjested that Dr. David Sayles couldn't get to the parking area at Municipal Airport in his car.

The medical radiologist, also a licensed pilot, drove to the other side of the field, borrowed a plane and taxied it to the airport terminal building. He picked up a package of air freight and taxied it away.

Driver Given Jail Sentence

The father of eight children was given a mandatory three-day jail term today in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Thomas J. Sullivan, 770 Dresden Ave., drew the term plus a fine of $200 and costs and suspension of his driver's license for six months from Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Sullivan appeared in court this morning still limping from the effects of injuries he suffered Jan. 23 when he was arrested by police after his auto hit the rear of a halted car of Norman J. Delaney of Williams Ave. at Lisbon St. and N. Shady Ln. He was released from City Hospital Sunday.

Judge Chertoff originally sentenced the defendant to five days in jail, but reduced the term to three days after Sullivan's request to serve the time after recuperating from his injuries was denied.

Cornelius M. Tarver, 74, of 1792 Pennsylvania Ave., also released from the hospital yesterday after being critically injured in an accident Jan. 11 on Harvey Ave., notified the court he wasn't feeling well enough to appear to answer to charges of reckless driving and driving without an operator's permit. No new hearing date has been set.

He was cited by police after his pickup truck rammed the rear of a parked car on Harvey Ave. and drove it into a utility pole 30 feet away.

Two motorists were fined on charges filed by the State Highway Patrol.

Wayne R. Lowry of Weirton drew a fine of $20 and costs on a speeding charge. He was cited Friday night for traveling 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

The 'Wicked' Truth Comes Out At Last

His Mother In Greece Made One Request

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — When James J. Mirras left his home in Niata, Greece, for America in 1920, his mother made one request:

Talk With Attractive Blonde

Learning About The Cape

By AL SIMPSON
Brush-Moore Writer

COCOA BEACH, Fla. — I sat in the darkness of a Florida night and talked to an attractive blonde —about Cape Canaveral.

And I learned more about the Cape, in some ways, than I had in two days of running in and out of press headquarters.

It was dark, all right, but not too dark to see the foam on the breakers on the beach below or to see that she was a blonde.

My wife probably will take a ribbing over this. But the blonde and I did have company. There were Smoky, her dog, and Maverick, her cat. She will have to remain the "nameless blonde," however, for she is employed on the Cape.

And I can't report everything she told me about what goes on there. We shared a common interest in Ohio, incidentally, for she was a former student at Miami University at Oxford.

AS WE TALKED, we sat and watched the thin jewel-like string of lights at the edge of the ocean which marks the launch pad area of the Cape at night.

She explained that when a green light was seen it meant there was no bird (missile) on the pad. When a yellow or orange light was discernible there was a bird on the pad, but the launch was not imminent. When red flights flickered on and off (as they were while we watched) the shoot could come at any time.

She described the beauty of a missile firing at night and said she hoped I would get to see it, but it hadn't gone up when I left to resume my writing.

AND NOW, since everything on the Cape is marking time newswise, I will tell you about Dudley Paterson, my Scot-Irish friend from Canada.

Dudley, who reminds me of film star Brian Donlevy (he says others have made the same comparison) was kind enough to give me a lift to Patrick Air Force Base where we were sent for credentials.

WE WERE HOPING to get passes which would let us get on the Cape but we were unsuccessful. Since then we have been buddies and are assisting one another in reporting the Cape Canaveral story.

There are a great number of newspaper, radio and TV teams at work here and so, occasionally, lone wolves like Dudley and me get together to pool our efforts so as better to compete with the teams.

In our case it turns out to be an international mutual assistance program.

Dudley is news director of radio station CJOB in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada. He is sending spot news coverage back to Canadians in the provinces of British Columbua, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario.

HE IS ONE of the 93 foreign correspondents from 15 countries registered here. When he learned that I knew John Glenn personally and had attended college with him, he said the discovery was "pure gold" for him and would I agree to an interview.

Observing that anyone who knows John even remotely is bathed in reflected glory, I agreed.

So we buzzed across the causeway over the Banana River to Merritt Island, to a hideaway radio studio, operated by Dave Price, a former Canadian.

DAVE, WHO served with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police "when they still rode horses" and has the powerful grip to prove it, is the originator of the radio program, "Canada Calling," a program unique in the annals of broadcasting.

Thousands of Canadians have moved to Florida permanently and hundreds of thousands move annually during the winter months to the Sunshine State.

Dave provides them news with a Canadian flavor over five Florida stations. In 1960 the Florida Development Commission estimated that 8½ per cent of the 12 million tourists who entered the state were Canadians.

IT IS DIFFICULT to find a Canadian in Florida who is not sharply aware of Dave's program. Dave is quite a story in himself but I'm straying from the John Glenn story.

After Dudley had prepared a few notes about John from the information I gave him, he took his script in hand and dialed Winnipeg. When his home office was reached, he flipped a switch on Dave's portable radio console and the "mike" was tied in to the telephone connection.

Winnipeg said, "Go ahead," and Dudley and I were talking to his vast following "in the heart of the continent," telling them a small part of the John Glenn story.

Ohio Girl Beats 100-1 Recovery From Car Crash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nineteen - year - old Nora Gunning of nearby Blacklick came home Sunday, something doctors last October said she had only one chance of 100 of doing.

Nora, who was en route to Mexico, suffered 30 broken bones, a collapsed lung and was in a coma for 3½ weeks following an automobile collision near Nashville, Tenn., last October. Doctors gave her a 1-in-100 chance to live.

For the past four months she has been in Vanderbilt Hospital in Nashville staging one of the most surprising recuperations in that hospital's history. Sunday she was released and flew home.

"Oh, she's home and its wonderful," exclaimed her mother, Mrs. Robert Gunning.

"She doesn't have any definite plans yet," Mrs. Gunning said, "except that she plans to work in a hospital here this summer."

Nora, who had been studying political science at Swarthmore College before her accident, says she now wants to become a doctor.

TV 'Visits' Rumored For President, Mr. K

PARIS (AP) — White House press secretary Pierre Salinger and his Soviet counterpart met today and there was speculation they discussed an exchange of television appearances by President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Salinger and Soviet press chief Mikhail Kharlamov met at the Soviet Embassy. Edward R. Murrow, chief of the U.S. Information Agency, attended the meeting.

Salinger said earlier they would discuss ways to improve communications between the two countries. More specific information on their discussion was not immediately available, and there was no confirmation that they discussed an appearance by Kennedy on Soviet television and an exchange appearance by Khrushchev on U.S. networks.

Rochester Area Child Loses Life In Flames

ROCHESTER — An 8-year-old boy perished and his stepfather was burned critically in a house trailer fire Saturday night in New Sewickley Township about five miles northeast of here.

Franklin R. Klinesmith died in the blaze. Henry P. Stasiowski, 33, was reported in critical condition in Rochester Hospital.

State Police Fire Marshal Michael Motily said the fire apparently was caused by a coal stove explosion.

Adoula Raps Russian Call For U.N. Session

LEQPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Premier Cyrille Adoula says the Soviet call for a U.N. Security Council meeting on the Congo "looks like a maneuver unfriendly to our government."

Adoula charged in a sharp protest to U.N. Acting Secretary-General U Thant that the council debate "can only bring further confusion" just when he is making headway to reunite his infant African republic.

The Security Council meets Tuesday in New York to hear Soviet complaints that the U.N. Command in the Congo has been slow in driving white mercenaries out of secessionist Katanga Province.

WHAT IS A DERMATOLOGIST?

When your skin problem is unusually difficult to cure, your own physician may recommend that you need additional help. Should he do so, follow his advice. There are few skin troubles which cannot be relieved or cured. Many are so complex they require a specialist.

Eggs, Good Protein Source, Help Keep Down Food Costs

Eggs, a good source of protein, can be relied upon to keep down food costs during 1962, according to Richard W. Skinner, market information specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service in Canfield.

Supplies will be a little larger than in the year just past and prices should average a little lower. Thus the outlook is good for consumers, but not too rosy for producers. Plenty of eggs may be included for breakfast, lunch or dinner as they always are an economical source of body - building protein. Nutritionists rate three eggs the equal of normal meat serving in protein

Large - size eggs are an especially good value with only a few cents difference in price between that size and "mediums." This situation should continue for some time. For baking and scrambling, the wise homemaker uses the more economical but equally nutritious grade B egg.

There will be little change in poultry prices for the next few weeks. Poultry fryers will be price leaders quite often in the 29c-to-33-cent range. Turkeys will continue to be abundant for the next few weeks.

There is no consistent price leader among pork, beef and lamb cuts. Pork prices have passed their seasonal low and are a little higher. Very little change is expected for some weeks. Pork steaks, fresh pork roasts and picnics will be common features. Chuck roasts and steaks, and of course, ground meat are beef features.

Weather influences the meat market at this time of year. Bad weather retards marketings and as a result of shorter supplies, prices rise. Following the period of bad weather marketings rise and prices drop. This change is more evident on the wholesale market, however, the consumer may defeat the weather influnce in retail prices if she has a "weather eye."

Demand for canned and frozen vegetables is likely to be stronger than expected for the rest of the winter — due to recent damage to fresh vegetables in Florida and Texas. As a result of the large 1961 packs of most processing vegetables, the supply picture is relatively good. Stocks of all frozen vegetables are above last year, with sizeable increases in broccoli, cauliflower, corn, lima beans, snap beans and spinach.

The supply situation for canned and frozen fruit varies. The main increase over last year is in canned and frozen cherries, with ample supplies indicated for the heavy consuming period ahead. Supplies of canned pears, fruit cocktail and pineapple are above last year. Most canned and frozen juices are in larger supply than a year ago.

Honey production in 1961 set an all-time record of around 270 million pounds. This means an ample supply for all its many uses—more than 1.5 pounds for each person in this country.

Time Altered For Meeting On Sunnyside

A public meeting between Sunnyside residents and city and State Highway Department officials concerning complaints that access to the residental district has been hampered by construction of the new freeway has been scheduled for 4 p. m. Tuesday in Council chambers at City Hall.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said the time of the hearing was set back three hours at the request of Sunnyside residents who said they would be unable to appear at 1 p. m., the original hour, because of work schedules.

The conference will bring together the Sunnyside group along with Mayor Goodballet, Safety-Service Director Robert Owen, City Engineer George Bloomgren, City Council members and William McKenna, head of the State Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia.

A delegation of Sunnyside residents complained to Council at its Jan. 15 meeting that their access has been hampered, street lighting in the area has been reduced greatly and slag sidewalks in the construction zone are inadequate.

They also presented a petition requesting the state construct an overpass or underpass to give access to both vehicles and pedestrians across the deadend section of W. 9th St.

McKenna and city officials will confer at 3 p. m. prior to the public meeting, Mayor Goodballet said.

Youths Aid Services

In conjunction with Youth Week, young people participated in the morning service of the First Presbyterian Church.

Georganne Sexton gave the call to worship; Nancy Ramsey, the invocation and the Lord's Prayer, and Denny Moore, responsive reading.

Next Sunday, Feb. 4, a youth rally sponsored by the Lisbon Ministerial Association will be held at Trinity United Presbyterian Church. Bennett D. Taylor, Boy Scout executive, will speak.

Twenty - three young people were present Sunday evening for the meeting of the Youth Fellowship at the First Christian Church.

Miss Chris Simes showed slides and told of her home in Karlsruhe, Germany, as well as many other places.

She told the group that although she is in the fourth year of high school in the United States, upon returning to Germany she will still have two years to complete high school there.

Discusses Program

She also told how she was chosen for the exchange student program, discussed dating customs of young couples there and answered many questions.

Councilors Mrs. Fred Reese, Miss Meretta Ikirt and Mrs. Richard Mason served refreshments.

At next week's youth rally at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Tim Wilfong will give the invocation.

Future Plans Listed

Several dates were announced: Feb. 11, the Fellowship will join with another youth group of the church for a coverdish dinner, and on Feb. 18, it will sponsor the appearance of a choir from Akron and Canton, with invitations to be sent to all churches in the district.

The Rev. William Spangler, pastor and a councilor of the group, was not present Sunday evening, having left in the afternoon for Columbus, where he will attend a three-day pastoral convention. The principal speaker will be the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. of integration leader from Montgomery, Ala.

Cubs At Midland Will Hold Dinner

Plans for a Blue and Gold dinner in February and a new charter in March were discussed at a meeting of Midland Cub Scout Pack 415 Friday night before one of the largest turnouts for some time, Richard Arndt, cubmaster, reported.

He had appealed for attendance, warning the cub movement might be abandoned for lack of support by parents.

Robert Chambers and Frank Lavrusky volunteered for the pack committee, which will meet Feb. 13 to further plans for the dinner at the Steelworkers Hall, with a date to be set.

Thomas Bryant gave a magic show. Skits on the month's theme, "Knights of Yore," were given by Den 7, with Mrs. Delmar White leader, and Den 2, Mrs. Thomas Wood and Mrs. William Selepec.

The dinner will be the February pack meeting.

Criminologist Taken

LITTLETON, N. H. (AP) — Frances Glessner Lee, 83, a noted woman criminologist, died Saturday after a brief illness. Mrs. Lee, who founded the Department of Legal Medicine at Harvard University in 1931, was the first woman admitted to membership in the International Association of police chiefs.

Police Hold 2 Youths In Quiz On Car Thefts

An 18-year-old city youth and a juvenile are being held by police today for questioning concerning some stolen autos in East Liverpool, Police Chief Americo Radeschi said today.

The 18-year-old was turned over to city police Saturday night by Sheriff Russell Van Fossan after being held in the County Jail at Lisbon for investigation of the armed robbery of a Glenmoor market operator on Christmas Eve, Chief Radeschi said. He was one of several suspects quizzed in the robbery, but all the others were released earlier.

Insurance Discussed By Midland's CD Unit

The possibility of insuring members in case of injury was discussed at a meeting of the Midland Civil Defense group Saturday evening in Council Chambers in the Borough Building.

David Schwerha, director, said members are not insured by the government. Daniel Orlando is chairman of a committee to look into the possibility of insurance, at least for workmen's compensation.

Plans were made for the future showing of Civil Defense films at every other meeting. Schwerha said a library of 25 films is available at Beaver.

The public is invited to attend the meetings. Next will be Saturday, Feb. 24, at the Borough Building.

Threat Dims For Boycott At University

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Southern University, the nation's largest state school for Negroes, reopened today with hundreds of students heading for classes despite earlier threats of classroom boycotts.

Some students said they thought the call by a student leader for the boycott would fall through.

A few hours before classes, 102 of about 300 faculty members released a signed statement calling for a "constructive reappraisal" of the university's policy toward student protests against segregation.

The signers said they were opposed to segregation and discrimination. They said they regretted the action taken against demonstrating students.

"We affirm the sacred right of every American citizen to hold and express opinions on public issues," they said.

Southern President Felton Clark ordered the university closed 10 days ago following student demonstrations against racial segregation. When the school reopened for registration it turned down 45 students.

D'Army Bailey, a 20-year-old expelled student from Memphis, Tenn., called on students Saturday to boycott classes and activities "until every student has been re-admitted."

An anthology is a collection of poems or epigrams.

Eggs, Good Protein Source, Help Keep Down Food Costs

Eggs, a good source of protein, can be relied upon to keep down food costs during 1962, according to Richard W. Skinner, market information specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service in Canfield.

Supplies will be a little larger than in the year just past and prices should average a little lower. Thus the outlook is good for consumers, but not too rosy for producers. Plenty of eggs may be included for breakfast, lunch or dinner as they always are an economical source of body - building protein. Nutritionists rate three eggs the equal of normal meat serving in protein

Large - size eggs are an especially good value with only a few cents difference in price between that size and "mediums." This situation should continue for some time. For baking and scrambling, the wise homemaker uses the more economical but equally nutritious grade B egg.

There will be little change in poultry prices for the next few weeks. Poultry fryers will be price leaders quite often in the 29c-to-33-cent range. Turkeys will continue to be abundant for the next few weeks.

There is no consistent price leader among pork, beef and lamb cuts. Pork prices have passed their seasonal low and are a little higher. Very little change is expected for some weeks. Pork steaks, fresh pork roasts and picnics will be common features. Chuck roasts and steaks, and of course, ground meat are beef features.

Weather influences the meat market at this time of year. Bad weather retards marketings and as a result of shorter supplies, prices rise. Following the period of bad weather marketings rise and prices drop. This change is more evident on the wholesale market, however, the consumer may defeat the weather influnce in retail prices if she has a "weather eye."

Demand for canned and frozen vegetables is likely to be stronger than expected for the rest of the winter — due to recent damage to fresh vegetables in Florida and Texas. As a result of the large 1961 packs of most processing vegetables, the supply picture is relatively good. Stocks of all frozen vegetables are above last year, with sizeable increases in broccoli, cauliflower, corn, lima beans, snap beans and spinach.

The supply situation for canned and frozen fruit varies. The main increase over last year is in canned and frozen cherries, with ample supplies indicated for the heavy consuming period ahead. Supplies of canned pears, fruit cocktail and pineapple are above last year. Most canned and frozen juices are in larger supply than a year ago.

Honey production in 1961 set an all-time record of around 270 million pounds. This means an ample supply for all its many uses—more than 1.5 pounds for each person in this country.

Time Altered For Meeting On Sunnyside

A public meeting between Sunnyside residents and city and State Highway Department officials concerning complaints that access to the residental district has been hampered by construction of the new freeway has been scheduled for 4 p. m. Tuesday in Council chambers at City Hall.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said the time of the hearing was set back three hours at the request of Sunnyside residents who said they would be unable to appear at 1 p. m., the original hour, because of work schedules.

The conference will bring together the Sunnyside group along with Mayor Goodballet, Safety-Service Director Robert Owen, City Engineer George Bloomgren, City Council members and William McKenna, head of the State Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia.

A delegation of Sunnyside residents complained to Council at its Jan. 15 meeting that their access has been hampered, street lighting in the area has been reduced greatly and slag sidewalks in the construction zone are inadequate.

They also presented a petition requesting the state construct an overpass or underpass to give access to both vehicles and pedestrians across the deadend section of W. 9th St.

McKenna and city officials will confer at 3 p. m. prior to the public meeting, Mayor Goodballet said.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Pre-Schooler May Be Taught To Read

In spite of the notion among many young parents that a child should not read before entering the first grade, some pre-school children are reading. Occasional parents teach their pre-school child to read. Most of these children who learn to read do so by pestering parents and older brothers and sisters to name words for them that they see on signs or labels or ask about words in a book or magazine they are curious about. Sometimes a youngster, four or five, who is often read to, will want to know what a certain word or words on the page say.

NOW AND then a mother writes me to ask if she should answer such questions. She asks if she has done right in naming the words for the child. A few other mothers who have taught a pre-school child to read, or taught him the letters and a few sounds of letters, seem to have a sense of guilt about it.

Some years ago I used to warn parents against teaching the child to read before entering the first grade. I advised diverting the child to other interests and activities.

Since then, I've "reformed".

But I never have advised parents not to name any signs or label or word the pre-school child asked them to name. Nor did I advise them against teaching these children to identify the letters of the alphabet, or sounds of letters in words they have heard.

IN ALL THE MANY years I have been writing this column, I have continually entreated parents to read to the baby and young child. I believe it is an excellent way to get this child ready to read by himself.

Now I advise young parents as follows:

As you read nursery rhymes to the child from two to six over and over again, pause occasionally at the end of a line to let him say the rhyming word.

Now and then encourage him to say another rhyming word as you name a few like ball, fall; cat, pat; coat, boat.

Readily name any word on a page he asks you to name. Occasionally point to a word often used in a rhyme or a story he likes and tell him: "That word says . . ." Call to his attention street, highway and store signs, labels on food packages and the like, naming each for him.

PROVIDE THE toddler early with alphabet blocks and help him at play to name a few of the letters on them. Invent ways to help your pre-school child to learn at play the names of most or all the letters, "small" and "large", before he enters the first grade.

Take one or two letters at a time. Induce him to print a few of these letters. You need not encourage him to learn them in alphabetical order.

If an older brother or sister chooses to teach your pre-school child to read, be glad.

My bulletins, "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading" and "Why Read to Baby and Young Child", may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Husband, Wife Agree On All Except Politics

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Emanuel McCarter, 90, and his wife, Pearl, 86, have used the family conference technique to iron out their disagreements.

It worked well, they said Sunday, as 150 friends and relatives honored them on their 67th wedding anniversary.

It worked except on one difference: McCarter was a Republican, his wife a Democrat.

McCarter worked that one out himself. "I became a Democrat three years ago," he confided.

Widow Claimed

Workers Locate Bodies Of 2 Boys In Pennsylvania

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP)—The badly mangled bodies of two missing boys were recovered in an abandoned clay mine Sunday, ending a 14-day search.

The bodies of Wesley lowe, 13, and Larry Husted, 10, were found buried underneath a rock fall inside the mine they entered Jan. 14.

Mrs. Eugene Husted, mother of Larry, collapsed upon learning the news, and was placed under a doctor's care.

Eugene Lowe and Ernest Husted, fathers of the boys, were reported "very broken up" according to Peck Phillips, who was with the men at the mine when the bodies were uncovered.

The bodies were found 17 feet under the earth surface and within 15 feet of where a hole had been dug last week by rescue workers.

The boys were first spotted by Marshal Dixon of Clearfield R. D. who was operating a dragline. He called to the other workers nearby who went down into the hole and dug the bodies out by hand.

Dr. Lewis C. Pusch of the Philipsburg State Hospital said there is "no question" the boys died instantly under the rock fall.

The physician said both boys died of skull fractures.

Richard Reid, a federal mine inspector, said the Husted youth was found lying on his back holding onto the leg of the Lowe boy, indicating the youths probably were standing when the cave-in crushed down onthem.

Weekend Brings New Terrorism In Algiers

ALGIERS (AP) — Two Europeans were killed and two others seriously wounded in the daily outbreaks of terrorism in Algiers today. In Oran a Moslem terrorist killed a European. Another terrorist, presumably a European, killed a Moslem.

Seventeen persons, 12 Moslems and five Europeans, were killed by terrorists over the weekend.

In France, Premier Michel Debre said terrorism and the anti-independence Secret Army Organization have caused grave concern but when the Algerian cease-fire is signed, the agitation will cease.

Group To See Film

SALINEVILLE — Movies of community scenes of the mid 1930's and of the centennial celebration of 1939 will be screened by Charles Goddard at a public meeting of the Salineville Area Historical Society Tuesday night at 7:30 in the high school cafeteria.

Cook paper-thin slices of tender veal in butter — fairly high heat and a brief time will do it. Remove the meat and keep warm. Add drained canned mushrooms (or sauteed sliced fresh ones) and cream; stir to get up the brown particles in the pan. Pour the sauce over the meat.

Farm Groups Set Fight On Federal Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm leaders and farm groups are getting set for what might become a last-ditch fight over the role of government in agriculture.

These groups and Congress have been battling since the early 1930s over this issue. That's when the New Deal stepped in to use powers of the government to help improve farm prices and incomes.

A new battle will be triggered by the farm message President Kennedy is scheduled to send to Congress Tuesday.

It is generally agreed there are three courses open to government in dealing with the problem of farm prices, incomes and surpluses. They are:

1. Eliminating all government price support, production control and subsidy payments.

2. Continuing present programs of this nature.

3. Broadening control programs to bring stability to all farm commodities not now subject to them or which might later get into surplus trouble.

Kennedy will espouse the third course. He advanced it during the 1960 presidential campaign and recommended it to Congress a year ago. But he did not get all the authority he felt the government needed.

But there are groups which believe the first course, that of eventual government withdrawal from agriculture, is the one that should be taken. These include the American Farm Bureau Federation and a number of individual farm commodity organizations. It also was the course recommended by the Eisenhower administration.

But the administration will get strong backing from the National Farmers Union and the National Grange, as well as from some farm commodity groups.

1,000 See Horse Pull Event Held Indoors At Avon

CLEVELAND (AP)—Some 1,000 persons braved the cold Sunday to watch an old-fashioned horse pulling contest in a huge barn on the Wolfe's Farms in suburban Avon.

They watched big horses pull flat, runnerless sleds laden with concrete blocks in the event, cosponsored by the Northern Ohio Draft Horse Association and the Buckeye Horse Pullers, Inc.

Each team of horses had to pull the weight 27 feet to qualify for either the lightweight division (team weight under 3,000 pounds) or the heavyweight class (over 3,000).

A team owned by Dwight Davis of Decatur, Ind., won first place in the lighter class, tugging 10,400 pounds the full 27 feet. A team driven by Davis' father, Paul, was second and one handled by Clint Pierce of Woodville was third.

Lawrence Beavers of Grove City was first in the heavyweight competition. His team pulled a 11,000-pound weight 20 feet, 5 inches. John Dobay of Burton was second, and Glen Meyers of LaGrange, Lorain County, was third.

Workers Locate Bodies Of 2 Boys In Pennsylvania

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP)—The badly mangled bodies of two missing boys were recovered in an abandoned clay mine Sunday, ending a 14-day search.

The bodies of Wesley lowe, 13, and Larry Husted, 10, were found buried underneath a rock fall inside the mine they entered Jan. 14.

Mrs. Eugene Husted, mother of Larry, collapsed upon learning the news, and was placed under a doctor's care.

Eugene Lowe and Ernest Husted, fathers of the boys, were reported "very broken up" according to Peck Phillips, who was with the men at the mine when the bodies were uncovered.

The bodies were found 17 feet under the earth surface and within 15 feet of where a hole had been dug last week by rescue workers.

The boys were first spotted by Marshal Dixon of Clearfield R. D. who was operating a dragline. He called to the other workers nearby who went down into the hole and dug the bodies out by hand.

Dr. Lewis C. Pusch of the Philipsburg State Hospital said there is "no question" the boys died instantly under the rock fall.

The physician said both boys died of skull fractures.

Richard Reid, a federal mine inspector, said the Husted youth was found lying on his back holding onto the leg of the Lowe boy, indicating the youths probably were standing when the cave-in crushed down onthem.

Weekend Brings New Terrorism In Algiers

ALGIERS (AP) — Two Europeans were killed and two others seriously wounded in the daily outbreaks of terrorism in Algiers today. In Oran a Moslem terrorist killed a European. Another terrorist, presumably a European, killed a Moslem.

Seventeen persons, 12 Moslems and five Europeans, were killed by terrorists over the weekend.

In France, Premier Michel Debre said terrorism and the anti-independence Secret Army Organization have caused grave concern but when the Algerian cease-fire is signed, the agitation will cease.

Group To See Film

SALINEVILLE — Movies of community scenes of the mid 1930's and of the centennial celebration of 1939 will be screened by Charles Goddard at a public meeting of the Salineville Area Historical Society Tuesday night at 7:30 in the high school cafeteria.

Cook paper-thin slices of tender veal in butter — fairly high heat and a brief time will do it. Remove the meat and keep warm. Add drained canned mushrooms (or sauteed sliced fresh ones) and cream; stir to get up the brown particles in the pan. Pour the sauce over the meat.

Farm Groups Set Fight On Federal Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm leaders and farm groups are getting set for what might become a last-ditch fight over the role of government in agriculture.

These groups and Congress have been battling since the early 1930s over this issue. That's when the New Deal stepped in to use powers of the government to help improve farm prices and incomes.

A new battle will be triggered by the farm message President Kennedy is scheduled to send to Congress Tuesday.

It is generally agreed there are three courses open to government in dealing with the problem of farm prices, incomes and surpluses. They are:

1. Eliminating all government price support, production control and subsidy payments.

2. Continuing present programs of this nature.

3. Broadening control programs to bring stability to all farm commodities not now subject to them or which might later get into surplus trouble.

Kennedy will espouse the third course. He advanced it during the 1960 presidential campaign and recommended it to Congress a year ago. But he did not get all the authority he felt the government needed.

But there are groups which believe the first course, that of eventual government withdrawal from agriculture, is the one that should be taken. These include the American Farm Bureau Federation and a number of individual farm commodity organizations. It also was the course recommended by the Eisenhower administration.

But the administration will get strong backing from the National Farmers Union and the National Grange, as well as from some farm commodity groups.

1,000 See Horse Pull Event Held Indoors At Avon

CLEVELAND (AP)—Some 1,000 persons braved the cold Sunday to watch an old-fashioned horse pulling contest in a huge barn on the Wolfe's Farms in suburban Avon.

They watched big horses pull flat, runnerless sleds laden with concrete blocks in the event, cosponsored by the Northern Ohio Draft Horse Association and the Buckeye Horse Pullers, Inc.

Each team of horses had to pull the weight 27 feet to qualify for either the lightweight division (team weight under 3,000 pounds) or the heavyweight class (over 3,000).

A team owned by Dwight Davis of Decatur, Ind., won first place in the lighter class, tugging 10,400 pounds the full 27 feet. A team driven by Davis' father, Paul, was second and one handled by Clint Pierce of Woodville was third.

Lawrence Beavers of Grove City was first in the heavyweight competition. His team pulled a 11,000-pound weight 20 feet, 5 inches. John Dobay of Burton was second, and Glen Meyers of LaGrange, Lorain County, was third.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I sympathize with the woman who denied she was pregnant and then had a baby a few weeks later. I was glad you gave her the benefit of the doubt because the same thing happened to me.

I was 44 years old and certain my child - bearing days were over. When I began to feel peculiar and gained weight I went to the doctor. He told me I ought to have my gall bladder out. I went to another doctor for confirmation and he said I didn't have gall bladder trouble at all. According to his diagnosis I had a water tumor which should be removed at once.

Then my husband finally said, "You look plain pregnant to me, kid." I told him he was out of his mind and that it wasn't possible.

The next day he almost dragged me to an OB specialist. The OB confirmed my husband's suspicion. Five weeks later I gave birth to a 7-pound boy. And now we are parents of the cutest "water tumor" in town.—HAPPY NOW.

School Taxi

Dear Ann: Our 12 - year - old daughter lives a long distance from school. Her father drives her every morning since the school is on his way to work.

Doris has a girl friend who is loud and boisterous. She comes over every morning, plops herself in our living room and waits for a ride.

Mornings at our house are hectic. It's annoying to have a stranger in the house listening to the morning conversation and watching our every move.

Occasionally she's late and my husband has to wait for her because if she missed her ride she'd be tardy. What can we do?—XLO.

Dear XLO: Doris should tell her friend it would be best if she waited outside.

She should explain, too, that her Dad is a businessman and that he can't wait for her when she's late.

People who have no taste or judgment (adolescents and adults alike) should be straightened around. Sometimes they learn from it.

Lonesome Wife

Dear Ann: My husband and I have been married for five years. We have two children and one on the way.

Bill has been on the night shift for 10 years and it's getting me down. He leaves the house at 3:30 p.m. and gets back at 12:30 a.m. I'm alone a great deal and I hate it.

I've begged him to quit and get a daytime job even if it means less money. He refuses, saying he'd be a fool to sacrifice his seniority.

We have a very nice home, good furniture and a 1961 car but I'm miserable. How can I get him to listen to reason? — BLUE LOU.

Dear Lou: It's YOU who should listen to reason. Your husband isn't out chasing dames. He's working to support his family.

Bill was a veteran on the night shift when you married him. It's not as if he sprang it on you as a surprise.

A woman with two small children and one on the way should have plenty of work to do to occupy her time. Quit griping and learn to adjust or you may find yourself alone a great deal more in the future. No man wants to come home to a nagging, complaining wife.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By CLARA HALL

Four naturally beautiful voices charmed the audience from the warming up exercise to the final good night song when the San Francisco Operatic Quartet presented a concert Sunday afternoon at Westgate School.

About 650 attended the third in the series sponsored by the Tri-State Civic Music Association. The fast - moving program, including quartet, trio and duet numbers, was under the direction of Maestro Nino Comel, a native of Italy who serves as accompanist.

Catherine Paul, the vivacious soprano, and Donna Petersen, a beautiful contralto, were able to lend a romantic air to their performances with Kenneth Wohn and Richard Frock, providing the tenor and baritone voices.

Switching partners from time to time, the duets were "Don Juan" (Mozart), sung by Miss Paul and Frock; "La Gioconda" (Ponchielli), with Miss Petersen and Wohn, and "La Boheme" (Puccini, with Miss Paul and Wohn receiving an extra round of applause.

The quartet selections, showing the blend of their voices, strayed a little from the printed program with the offering of "Tales Of The Vienna Woods" (Strauss), "This Is My Beloved" from "Kismet" and a lively version of "Rigoletto" (Verdi).

Miss Petersen's solo, "Bali Hai," from "South Pacific," a pleasing departure from the operatic proto - type of song, was very well-received.

Providing an interesting variation, the trio numbers were "The Stolen Bucket" (Burgmein), with the women and Frock featured, and "The Daughter Of The Regiment" (Donizetti), spotlighting the men and Miss Paul.

Displaying a flair for comedy, along with dramatic ability, the ensemble offered a condensed version of the opera, "The Barber of Seville" (Rossini), following intermission. Maestro Comel wrote the English translation. A few small properties lent effect to the unique presentation, which rounded out a program of operatic selections.

Encores, on the lighter side, were "Love Is Where You Find It;" a catchy tune, "Fiddle De," and another humorous bit, "I Bought Me A Cat," with the quartet imitating the noises of the barnyard.

The last concert of the season will be May 13, when the Virginia Symphony will perform.

$3.5 Billion For Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sales tax stamps were receipts for about $3.5 billion in state revenue during the 27 years the stamp system was in effect, State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson has estimated. In that time Ohio printed and sold more than 49 billion stamps.

Cubans Wait Cleveland Aid

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Area Church Federation has announced plans to participate in an airlift of Cuban refugee families now living in Miami, Fla.

A federation spokesman said Sunday he understood 1,000 plane loads of Cubans will be airlifted at different times from Miami to various parts of the United States for resettlement.

Under the project known as Friendship Flight, 25 Cuban families or 100 persons are scheduled to arrive in Cleveland around Feb. 27, according to the Rev. H. Robert Gemmer, social welfare department director in the federation.

He said Cleveland was chosen as the pilot project in the plan proposed by the Church World Service, the relief arm of the World Council of Churches.

In Cleveland, the plan is to have federation churches and their members act as sponsors for a Cuban family. This would mean providing temporary housing, collecting furniture, offering financial aid, and hunting for jobs and permanent housing.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gergan of Cleveland were among the first to agree to assist a Cuban family. He is president of the St. Mark United Church of Christ congregation.

Fire-Retardant Paints Save Lives, Property

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The day may come when it will be almost impossible for a fire to start accidentally in your home.

But the complete use of fire-proof materials is still a long way off, from a practical standpoint.

Science is making considerable progress, however, in the fight to reduce the large loss of life and huge property damage every year from home fires.

One way in which this is being done is by the creation of fire-proof or fire retardant additions to materials that ordinarily would burn easily.

Fire retardant paints are one of the products which it is hoped will slow down the fire once it starts.

These paints cannot, of course, prevent fires. They can only keep them from spreading too rapidly. The valuable minutes which are saved can mean the difference between a minor blaze and a tragic one.

These paints work on one or more of three ways. When the temperature reaches a given point, some of these paints release vapors such as carbon dioxide and nitrogen which not only do not support combustion, but which often help to put fires out by starving them of oxygen the way certain fire extinguishers do.

Other fire - retardant paints work by swelling or bubbling up to form a honeycombed, foam-like layer that insulates the surface beneath and prevents it from reaching a temperature at which it will burn or release harmful fumes. This process also insulates iron and steel structural members to keep them from buckling.

To qualify as a fire - retardant paint with Underwriters Laboratories, the formulation must have two other properties clearly stated on the label.

It must not contribute more than a certain amount of additional fuel to a fire. And it must not develop more than a minimum amount of smoke.

Fire retardant paints are available in both flat and gloss finishes and in a variety of colors.

They can be applied over any surface by brush, roller and spray and generally do not require a special primer. They are especially recommended for furnace rooms, garages, bedrooms, hallways and stairwells.

Hard Floors Ready For Any Decor

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

"We have fabulous new designs and we haven't even scratched the surface," says Herbert Bright, one of the country's best-known floor designers. "There are products that can fit just about any look you desire."

If you think patterns that simulate brick, marble, cork and distressed wood are the last word in flooring conceptions, don't bet on it.

There are Florentine gold-stamped floorings and one new flooring that gives the effect of stones floating in water. It is pebbles seen through transparent plastic.

"From France we import handmade terra cotta tile processed from clay, three-eights of an inch thick. These are laid with cement grout," he says.

"It isn't what you can get in flooring that counts, it's what you can do with what is available that counts," Bright continues. "Vinyls are not made to look like vinyls. They are made to look like another product and should be treated in the manner intended."

A travertine vinyl can be beveled, cut into planks and made to look like distressed wood. Take 9-by-9-inch or 12-by-12-inch tiles and cut them into 4-by-12 and 6-by-12-inch sizes, bevel the edges and fit the shapes together for a brick floor. If you don't bevl the edges, you'll just have a series of shapes that do not mean anything, he advises.

"If you have an elegant Louis XV dining room and want a marble floor, you can't put down the tile squares. The tiles laid in plain fashion will lose their identify. Lay it to look like marble flooring, and you will get the value out of it," he says.

Bright uses a bronze-color vinyl that looks like ceramic tile in his own living room. He cuts 36-inch slabs of vinyl into octagons and squares.

Hexagons will fit together, but octagons need to be balanced, he points out. He beveled them for a distinctive look and to outline the pattern.

The tiles are available in 12-inch squares in one-eighth-inch thickness. Bright showed their versatility recently in designing floors in a number of patterns—hexagons, herringbone brick designs, flagstones with and without grouting.

The tiles may be cut when warmed with a tile warmer, blow-torch or in an oven or pan of hot water. They are scored on the back with a knife and snapped over a straight edge to achieve variegated effects. They also can be cut along a penciled line with

6 Hurt As Boy Starts Blaze At Canton Home

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—At least six persons were injured Sunday in a house fire officials blamed on a 4-year-old boy playing with a cigarette lighter.

Asst. Fire Chief Lorain Waddell said the boy set fire to items in a downstairs closet. Several persons were trapped upstairs in the two-story frame house.

Train Kills Woman

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The death of Mary L. Ortt, 51, of Mansfield was ruled a suicide by the Richland County coroner Sunday. Highway patrolmen said the woman lay down on the track of the Erie Railroad overhead bridge, a half mile west of here, and was struck by an oncoming eastbound passenger train. Relatives said she had been despondent over poor health.

Tips Offered In Battle For 'More Space'

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Few houses ever seem large enough, especially in winter when everyone is underfoot. The hue and cry is "we need more space."

Too many people furnish a house without a plan, and go on year after year adding furniture and accessories until finally there is just no room for the growing family.

We must learn to discard extraneous objects and to make the most of every inch of floor and air space to achieve comfort and coziness without clutter.

These can be made more practical by building a closet on either or both sides of the front door, if space permits. This will not only break up the monotony of the hall but will permit a closed-in section at the entrance where unexpected callers and canvassers may be greeted without being brought into the main area of the house.

A corner cupboard in a hall can serve to house china and linens, and perhaps even conceal protuberances such as pipes.

Living rooms seem to shrink as the years go on, but often a room is dwarfed by the furniture that is added from time to time.

A sofa table can be a great clutter, but the homemaker is reluctant to part with it because "we've always had it." A desk can take up a great deal of space, offering nothing more than a writing surface. A delicate piece of furniture that is pretty, but useless, such as an in-need-of re-upholstery Victorian sofa, is kept as a decoration.

Large coffee tables and occasional tables may offer little more than support for ash trays and lamps.

If the home decor is contemporary, more room may be corralled by utilizing "air space," using room dividers and cabinets and lamps on pole suspension. These space savers are shown in stores.

The dining room has returned to modern living, but it need not be as large as a ballroom to serve its purpose.

A dining room may give up some of its excess space to the living room, kitchen or perhaps to a small sewing room, linen room or work room. In one home the dining room was divided in half with louvered doors hitched to the ceiling, and the extra space used for shelf storage of linens, glasses, china and silver.

Children's rooms may be made more utilitarian so that they and their toys will not spread over the house.

A properly - planned cabinet and bookcase arrangement built on one wall, to the ceiling, will take care of small fry through their teen years. Two girls might be accommodated by utilizing space under a sloping ceiling so that there is a closet on each side and desk in between. A vanity table and mirror may replace the desk in later years.

Fire-Retardant Paints Save Lives, Property

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The day may come when it will be almost impossible for a fire to start accidentally in your home.

But the complete use of fireproof materials is still a long way off, from a practical standpoint.

Science is making considerable progress, however, in the fight to reduce the large loss of life and huge property damage every year from home fires.

These paints cannot, of course, prevent fires. They can only keep them from spreading too rapidly. The valuable minutes which are saved can mean the difference between a minor blaze and a tragic one.

These paints work on one or more of three ways. When the temperature reaches a given point, some of these paints release vapors such as carbon dioxide and nitrogen which not only do not support combustion, but which often help to put fires out by starving them of oxygen the way certain fire extinguishers do.

Other fire - retardant paints work by swelling or bubbling up to form a honeycombed, foam-like layer that insulates the surface beneath and prevents it from reaching a temperature at which it will burn or release harmful fumes. This process also insulates iron and steel structural members to keep them from buckling.

To qualify as a fire - retardant paint with Underwriters Laboratories, the formulation must have two other properties clearly stated on the label.

It must not contribute more than a certain amount of additional fuel to a fire. And it must not develop more than a minimum amount of smoke.

Fire retardant paints are available in both flat and gloss finishes and in a variety of colors.

They can be applied over any surface by brush, roller and spray and generally do not require a special primer. They are especially recommended for furnace rooms, garages, bedrooms, hallways and stairwells.

There's Fast Turnover In Most Homes

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

When you buy a house, the chances are you expect to live in it a long time.

But the records show that, on the average, a family lives only six or seven years in the same home. Now you know why there are so many not-new homes up for sale all the time.

There is no one reason — not even one reason that stands out above all others. People move for a variety of reasons. The family breadwinner may get a job opportunity in another city or may find that his company either has relocated its headquarters or has transferred him to a branch office somewhere else.

The family may have an added income that enables it to seek a more luxurious dwelling.

The house may be condemned for a public improvement. The area may have become too crowded. The house may be too rundown to make remodeling practical. Or the family may have grown so over the years that there just isn't enough space.

Old folks once were content to live out their lives wherever they were at the time of retirement. Now they want to sell the old homestead and move somewhere else. In many cases they move hundreds or thousands of miles away in order to get the benefit of warmer climates.

Some prefer retirement developments where the needs and wants of elder persons are given special attention. Others prefer to settle in areas where they can mix with younger persons.

But there no longer is the feeling of years ago that they must stay close to their children and grandchildren.

Modern transportation has made it easier for families to get together on special occasions even when separated by long distances. Yet it isn't the speed of transportation alone that has generated this feeling. It's a kind of modern attitude that retired people should live where they want to live, not necessarily where their families live.

One reason why you often can get a good buy in a home that isn't new is, as we said a few paragraphs back, people expect to live a long time in houses they buy.

They make changes, add landscaping and do a dozen other things to turn the house into a home. Then, when they decide to move for one reason or another, the buyer gets the benefit of the improvements.

His only problem is to decide whether it is more economical for him to pay extra for a home with such improvements or to put the improvements in a house that doesn't have them.

Athens Motel Burns

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Thirteen units of the 15-unit Pilgrim Motel on Ohio 50, west of here, were destroyed by fire believed started by a faulty gas heater Sunday. Damage was estimated at about $35,000. There were no injuries.

Dry-Cleaning Concern Will Mark 60th Year

The Jones Dry Cleaning Co. will observe its 60th anniversary next month.

Paul Jones, manager, said the firm was established in February 1902 and then was known as the Jones & Bailey Dry Cleaning Co., a partnership named for his father, Thomas H. Jones, who is now 87, and the late William F. Bailey.

Both men were from Pittsburgh and established here since there was no dry cleaning plant. Jones was a dyer in woolen mills and learned dry cleaning in a plant in Pittsburgh.

Their first plant was located between W. 8th St. and W. 9th St., along Carpenter's Run, next to the former Greenwood Brewery.

In 1927, an addition was added to the plant to take care of finishing which had been done at various locations downtown. Last July the company opened its cash-and-carry outlet at 106 W. 5th St.

Thomas Jones served as manager from 1902 until about 1958 when Paul Jones took over as manager. Another son, Harold H. Jones, who died about four years ago, also worked at the plant.

Colored Fixtures Gain Popularity

CHICAGO — There are many good reasons why colored plumbing fixtures have gained such wide acceptance and desirability the last few years.

The first thing that pops into the homemaker's mind is the new dimension the fixtures bring to bathroom and kitchen decorating. Virtually endless possibilities of varied color schemes make it a pleasure to plan and use the facilities.

The pleasing pastels featured in most modern enameled and vitreous china fixtures truly open the door to artistic decorating. Walls, floor coverings, towels and curtains can be beautifully and fashionably matched, blended or contrasted to taste.

Youth, Girl Take Top Speech, Essay Prizes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John Berg, 17, of Newcomerstown and Sally Snyder, 16, of Dayton picked up four-year college scholarships and $100 for winning the top prizes in the 37th Ohio Prince of Peace contest here Sunday.

Berg was selected the winner among seven youths in the speech competition, and Miss Snyder topped six finalists in the essay contest.

Sandra Leadingham, 17, of Fairborn was second in the speech conest, and Stan Cameron, 16, of Columbus was third. Runner - up included Joy Blackett of Yellow Springs, Ann Budd of Wooster, Corliss Howes of Barberton and Sharon Bernard of New Vienna.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average five to nine degrees below normal. Normal high 34-35, normal low 17-21. Cold until slightly warmer about Thursday, colder again last part of week. Precipitation will average around two-tenths of an inch melted as occasional light snow Tuesday and snow flurries Friday and Saturday.

Good Architect Proves Of Value

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We have been thinking about having our kitchen completely remodeled, since it is very old-fashioned.

We'd like to have an architect draw up the plans for us, but wonder whether this is absolutely necessary. What is your advice?

Answer: As long as you used the words absolutely necessary, the answer is no, it isn't absolutely necessary to have an architect draw up the plans. You can make your own rough sketch, show it to your contractor and have him make suggestions, since he might note desired changes which are impractical.

But if you are willing to spend the money to hire an architect, you will be purchasing more than merely a set of plans.

He will supervise the entire job, see that the right materials are used, that the terms of the contract are fulfilled and that, all in all, you are getting your money's worth. In some cases, where special conditions exist, he can save you as much or more money than his fee.

If you decide to use an architect, be ready ahead of time to explain your needs in detail.

You may, for instance, consider it vital that there be a minimum amount of walking from one appliance to another. He can then plan his design accordingly. Another person may not consider the saving of steps important, but may place a high value on more storage space.

Get all your wants and needs set in your mind before you see the architect and both of you can save time.

9 Killed By Fire In New England

That panicky cry, sobbed by a pajama-clad 11-year-old boy pounding on a neighbor's door, was the first alarm of a fire that took nine lives early Sunday morning in this western Massachusetts village.

Six children and three adults swept through a two-story farmhouse two hours before dawn.

Those who died included his mother, Mrs. Robert Deome, 32; a brother, Charles, 6; the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond R. Crandall, 66 and 63, respectively, and five first cousins ranging in age from 2 to 10.

The cause of the fire was not known. State Police detective Lt. Timothy Keane, assigned to the Massachusetts fire marshal's office, said a probable cause was a basement heating plant explosion.

There's Fast Turnover In Most Homes

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

When you buy a house, the chances are you expect to live in it a long time.

But the records show that, on the average, a family lives only six or seven years in the same home. Now you know why there are so many not-new homes up for sale all the time.

What causes this constant shifting of the population into different residences?

There is no one reason — not even one reason that stands out above all others. People move for a variety of reasons. The family breadwinner may get a job opportunity in another city or may find that his company either has relocated its headquarters or has transferred him to a branch office somewhere else.

The family may have an added income that enables it to seek a more luxurious dwelling.

The house may be condemned for a public improvement. The area may have become too crowded. The house may be too rundown to make remodeling practical. Or the family may have grown so over the years that there just isn't enough space.

Another contributing factor in this home - to - home movement is the tendency in recent years to move into retirement houses and areas.

Old folks once were content to live out their lives wherever they were at the time of retirement. Now they want to sell the old homestead and move somewhere else. In many cases they move hundreds or thousands of miles away in order to get the benefit of warmer climates.

Some prefer retirement developments where the needs and wants of elder persons are given special attention. Others prefer to settle in areas where they can mix with younger persons.

But there no longer is the feeling of years ago that they must stay close to their children and grandchildren.

Modern transportation has made it easier for families to get together on special occasions even when separated by long distances. Yet it isn't the speed of transportation alone that has generated this feeling. It's a kind of modern attitude that retired people should live where they want to live, not necessarily where their families live.

One reason why you often can get a good buy in a home that isn't new is, as we said a few paragraphs back, people expect to live a long time in houses they buy.

They make changes, add landscaping and do a dozen other things to turn the house into a home. Then, when they decide to move for one reason or another, the buyer gets the benefit of the improvements.

His only problem is to decide whether it is more economical for him to pay extra for a home with such improvements or to put the improvements in a house that doesn't have them.

Dry-Cleaning Concern Will Mark 60th Year

The Jones Dry Cleaning Co. will observe its 60th anniversary next month.

Paul Jones, manager, said the firm was established in February 1902 and then was known as the Jones & Bailey Dry Cleaning Co., a partnership named for his father, Thomas H. Jones, who is now 87, and the late William F. Bailey.

Both men were from Pittsburgh and established here since there was no dry cleaning plant. Jones was a dyer in woolen mills and learned dry cleaning in a plant in Pittsburgh.

Their first plant was located between W. 8th St. and W. 9th St., along Carpenter's Run, next to the former Greenwood Brewery.

In 1927, an addition was added to the plant to take care of finishing which had been done at various locations downtown. Last July the company opened its cash-and-carry outlet at 106 W. 5th St.

Thomas Jones served as manager from 1902 until about 1958 when Paul Jones took over as manager. Another son, Harold H. Jones, who died about four years ago, also worked at the plant.

Colored Fixtures Gain Popularity

CHICAGO — There are many good reasons why colored plumbing fixtures have gained such wide acceptance and desirability the last few years.

The first thing that pops into the homemaker's mind is the new dimension the fixtures bring to bathroom and kitchen decorating. Virtually endless possibilities of varied color schemes make it a pleasure to plan and use the facilities.

The pleasing pastels featured in most modern enameled and vitreous china fixtures truly open the door to artistic decorating. Walls, floor coverings, towels and curtains can be beautifully and fashionably matched, blended or contrasted to taste.

To insure continuous color fidelity, whether the fixture is enameled or solid vitreous china, plumbing manufacturers employ an electronic "eye". The "eye" keeps close check for any color variation as the china glazes and enamels are prepared, a closer check than the human eye could make.

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We have been thinking about having our kitchen completely remodeled, since it is very old-fashioned.

We'd like to have an architect draw up the plans for us, but wonder whether this is absolutely necessary. What is your advice?

Answer: As long as you used the words absolutely necessary, the answer is no, it isn't absolutely necessary to have an architect draw up the plans. You can make your own rough sketch, show it to your contractor and have him make suggestions, since he might note desired changes which are impractical.

Smaller Potters Surprise McKinley With 60-54 Victory

Deshler Nets 19; ELHS Stands 5-5

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

A small band of East Liverpool Potters rose to heights that not even a tall Canton McKinley squad could reach Saturday night in recording a smashing 60-54 victory over the heavily-favored Bulldogs.

About 1,000 fans showed up at Memorial Auditorium to see the Potters even their record at 5-5 for the season and bounce back from a disappointing one-point loss the night before to New Philadelphia.

The victory was the result of a new lineup installed by Coach Jim Harris. While they came within a point of clicking Friday night against New Philly, the Potters turned in their best performance of the season Saturday.

Canton McKinley, which brought a 8-4 record here, was a tall outfit, led by 6-foot-6 center Bill Morgan. The bulldogs, coached by Bob Rupert, also were billed as a fast-breaking team.

The Potters, with some real hustle and determination, quickly chopped the bigger McKinley five down to size and Canton's fast break didn't work more than twice all evening.

East Liverpool's dressing room had a holiday feeling about it after the contest. Coach Harris called the victory "a good team effort, I just can't single out any one boy; they all did a good job tonight."

"We weren't concerned so much about their size, if we could box them out under the boards. We spotted them 3 to 4 inches, but our boys did a good job of blocking out McKinley."

THE WIN over McKinley pushed the Big 8 Conference into a three way dogfight. As it stands now, The Potters and Massillon show 3-1 records while Salem holds a 2-0 record. Ease Liverpool's final Big 8 contest is with Salem next Friday on the Quaker court, while Massillon has two league games remaining.

Like one observer put it, East Liverpool only played about six minutes of bad basketball all night, the rest of the time the team was at its best.

But for a brief letdown in the second quarter when McKinley had its only lead, the Potters were in command.

MCKINLEY went in front 26-24 with about three minutes remaining in the second quarter. But that was the last Canton was to score in the first half.

East Liverpool went on to tally 10 straight points in the last two minutes and 20 seconds. Deshler got six in that drive, while Cline and Linville had a goal each.

The Potters went to the dressing room with a 34-26 lead then came out to keep up the fine effort in the third period and build up a 51-42 advantage when the quarter ended. Deshler tallied eight of the Potters 17 points in the period.

The game saw East Liverpool turn in its best shooting mark of the season, with 43 per cent of the shots going through the hoop. McKinley showed a 35 per cent shooting mark.

It was Deshler, the 5-foot-11 senior, who led the scoring with 19 points. And again his scoring came in spurts, with the second and third periods his best. He took 13 cracks at the bucket and hit on 8.

BEHIND him was Dean Cline, who fired 10 times and hit five winding up with 12 points. Cline, the tallest of the starters on the new outfit at a shade over six feet, did a fine job of watching the 6-foot-6 Morgan, who ran into some personal foul trouble.

Morgan, attempting to guard Cline in the pivot, had four fouls on him with 1:45 remaining in the first half and sat out most of the third quarter.

McComas, the high - jumping sophomore who amazes Potter followers with his great spring, tallied 10 points by hitting 3 of 10 shots and had a perfect 4-for-4 night from the foul line.

—:—

LINVILLE added eight markers, all on field goals, but only shot seven times. The 5-foot-11 junior, who hustles as well as anybody on the court, also led the Potters in rebounding and did a commendable job against opponents a head taller than he was.

The Potters contained Morgan pretty well. The big guy only tallied 11 points. Corney Willis, a good driver, paced the Bulldogs with 12 points, while 6-foot-4 Dave Katusin fired in 11.

RUPERT'S team, behind 18-10 at the end of the first quarter, as all the Potters were hitting, woke up to the fact there was a ball game on and came back strong in the second period.

After Linville had given the Potters a 20-10 lead early in the quarter, McKinley went on to score five consecutive buckets and knot the score at 20-20. Following a 24-24 tie, Willis put his team in front 26-24. Then the Potters started the blitz that led to the 34-26 halftime margin.

Once in the third quarter McKinley came within three points, 38-35, but Deshler hit a jump shot and Cline turned in a three-point play and the Bulldogs failed to get closer the rest of the way.

Farmington Sends Newell To Fifth Setback, 65-56; Staley Scores 26

The scoring and rebounding prowess of Farmington's Stroher was the difference in Farmington's 65-56 victory over Newell Saturday night on the Wells High planks.

Strother outrebounded the Vikings and tossed in 27 points on 13 field goals and a foul to send Newell down to its fifth loss against eight victories.

The win Saturday at Newell gave the Farmington five a split on the two-day road trip in the Panhandle. Farmington lost to Chester Friday night.

The visitors took a 14-11 first quarter lead then held the same margin at halftime 32-29. At the end of the third period, Farmington led 46-40.

Mick Staley kept up his scoring average by dropping in 26 points. The total came on nine field goals and eight fouls and sent his total for the season over 300 points. Staley has now scored 303 points in 13 games for an average over 23 per game.

While Staley scored 21 of his markers in the second half in an attempt to get the Vikings back into the game. Dave Bell followed Staley in the scoring with 16 and scored 14 of those points in the first half.

Coach John Robison's team now prepares itself for the invasion of Stanton Local which will carry a 13-0 record into the Wells High gym Tuesday.

Potter Subs Notch 9th, Trip McKinley, 64-55

Coach Frank Chan's Potters have now captured nine contests in 10 starts and have won their last six in a row.

A better balanced attack paid off for the Potters who trailed 17-12 at the first quarter but got on top 29-27 at halftime and led 44-39 after three quarters.

Smaller Potters Surprise McKinley With 60-54 Victory

Deshler Nets 19; ELHS Stands 5-5

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

A small band of East Liverpool Potters rose to heights that not even a tall Canton McKinley squad could reach Saturday night in recording a smashing 60-54 victory over the heavily-favored Bulldogs.

About 1,000 fans showed up at Memorial Auditorium to see the Potters even their record at 5-5 for the season and bounce back from a disappointing one-point loss the night before to New Philadelphia.

The victory was the result of a new lineup installed by Coach Jim Harris. While they came within a point of clicking Friday night against New Philly, the Potters turned in their best performance of the season Saturday.

Canton McKinley, which brought a 8-4 record here, was a tall outfit, led by 6-foot-6 center Bill Morgan. The bulldogs, coached by Bob Rupert, also were billed as a fast-breaking team.

The Potters, with some real hustle and determination, quickly chopped the bigger McKinley five down to size and Canton's fast break didn't work more than twice all evening.

East Liverpool's dressing room had a holiday feeling about it after the contest. Coach Harris called the victory "a good team effort, I just can't single out any one boy; they all did a good job tonight."

"We weren't concerned so much about their size, if we could box them out under the boards. We spotted them 3 to 4 inches, but our boys did a good job of blocking out McKinley."

"This game is 75 per cent hustle, and we hustled tonight," Harris emphasized.

THE WIN over McKinley pushed the Big 8 Conference into a three way dogfight. As it stands now, The Potters and Massillon show 3-1 records while Salem holds a 2-0 record. Ease Liverpool's final Big 8 contest is with Salem next Friday on the Quaker court, while Massillon has two league games remaining.

East Liverpool showed good balance and also scored in spurts, which completely demoralized McKinley.

Like one observer put it, East Liverpool only played about six minutes of bad basketball all night, the rest of the time the team was at its best.

But for a brief letdown in the second quarter when McKinley had its only lead, the Potters were in command.

MCKINLEY went in front 26-24 with about three minutes remaining in the second quarter. But that was the last Canton was to score in the first half.

East Liverpool went on to tally 10 straight points in the last two minutes and 20 seconds. Deshler got six in that drive, while Cline and Linville had a goal each.

The Potters went to the dressing room with a 34-26 lead then came out to keep up the fine effort in the third period and build up a 51-42 advantage when the quarter ended. Deshler tallied eight of the Potters 17 points in the period.

The game saw East Liverpool turn in its best shooting mark of the season, with 43 per cent of the shots going through the hoop. McKinley showed a 35 per cent shooting mark.

It was Deshler, the 5-foot-11 senior, who led the scoring with 19 points. And again his scoring came in spurts, with the second and third periods his best. He took 13 cracks at the bucket and hit on 8.

BEHIND him was Dean Cline, who fired 10 times and hit five winding up with 12 points. Cline, the tallest of the starters on the new outfit at a shade over six feet, did a fine job of watching the 6-foot-6 Morgan, who ran into some personal foul trouble.

Morgan, attempting to guard Cline in the pivot, had four fouls on him with 1:45 remaining in the first half and sat out most of the third quarter.

McComas, the high - jumping sophomore who amazes Potter followers with his great spring, tallied 10 points by hitting 3 of 10 shots and had a perfect 4-for-4 night from the foul line.

—:—

LINVILLE added eight markers, all on field goals, but only shot seven times. The 5-foot-11 junior, who hustles as well as anybody on the court, also led the Potters in rebounding and did a commendable job against opponents a head taller than he was.

Harris made only one substitution Saturday. Ed Prentice relieved McComas in the late stages of the fourth quarter.

The Potters contained Morgan pretty well. The big guy only tallied 11 points. Corney Willis, a good driver, paced the Bulldogs with 12 points, while 6-foot-4 Dave Katusin fired in 11.

RUPERT'S team, behind 18-10 at the end of the first quarter, as all the Potters were hitting, woke up to the fact there was a ball game on and came back strong in the second period.

After Linville had given the Potters a 20-10 lead early in the quarter, McKinley went on to score five consecutive buckets and knot the score at 20-20. Following a 24-24 tie, Willis put his team in front 26-24. Then the Potters started the blitz that led to the 34-26 halftime margin.

Once in the third quarter McKinley came within three points, 38-35, but Deshler hit a jump shot and Cline turned in a three-point play and the Bulldogs failed to get closer the rest of the way.

Farmington Sends Newell To Fifth Setback, 65-56; Staley Scores 26

The scoring and rebounding prowess of Farmington's Stroher was the difference in Farmington's 65-56 victory over Newell Saturday night on the Wells High planks.

Strother outrebounded the Vikings and tossed in 27 points on 13 field goals and a foul to send Newell down to its fifth loss against eight victories.

The win Saturday at Newell gave the Farmington five a split on the two-day road trip in the Panhandle. Farmington lost to Chester Friday night.

The visitors took a 14-11 first quarter lead then held the same margin at halftime 32-29. At the end of the third period, Farmington led 46-40.

Mick Staley kept up his scoring average by dropping in 26 points. The total came on nine field goals and eight fouls and sent his total for the season over 300 points. Staley has now scored 303 points in 13 games for an average over 23 per game.

While Staley scored 21 of his markers in the second half in an attempt to get the Vikings back into the game. Dave Bell followed Staley in the scoring with 16 and scored 14 of those points in the first half.

Coach John Robison's team now prepares itself for the invasion of Stanton Local which will carry a 13-0 record into the Wells High gym Tuesday.

Potter Subs Notch 9th, Trip McKinley, 64-55

Like their big brother varsity team, the East Liverpool reserves had to whittle Canton McKinley's jayvees down to size to record a 64-55 victory.

Coach Frank Chan's Potters have now captured nine contests in 10 starts and have won their last six in a row.

A better balanced attack paid off for the Potters who trailed 17-12 at the first quarter but got on top 29-27 at halftime and led 44-39 after three quarters.

Schaffer Ties United Mark

Tallies 40 Points In Lopsided Win

HANOVERTON — Jerry Schaffer, a 6-foot standout for Untied, grabbed a share of the school scoring record when he tied a two-year-old standard by pouring 40 points in an 81-38 victory over winless Jackson - Milton.

Schaffer's 40 points equaled a record set by Jim Summer in the 1959-60 season.

While the senior cager dropped in 14 points in the first half, he went on a rampage in the final two periods by adding 26 markers. His total came on 15 field goals and 10 charity tosses.

Schaffer's outstanding shooting also led his team to a 51 per cent shooting mark and he paced the Eagles in rebounds with 17.

United grabbed a 15-9 first quarter lead then put the game practically out of reach with a 32-13 halftime advantage.

Marine Sets New Pole Vault Record

"I'll make that 16 feet pretty soon," the rugged leatherneck from Quantico, Va., said. He set an indoor record of 15 feet 10¼ inches in an invitational meet Saturday. Don Bragg held the old mark of 15-9½.

Forced To Scramble

Littler Wins At Frisco

By P. D. ELDRED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gene Littler's one-dollar putter was a cold and unresponsive hunk of iron until he really needed it.

Then the ancient, homemade club the U.S. Open champion picked up for a buck in Milwaukee three months ago dropped two decisive putts for Gene in a rally that made him $9,000 richer today—winner of the San Francisco Open golf tournament by two strokes with a 274.

The usually steady San Diego pro was 12 under par for three rounds and six strokes in front of the field going into the final round Sunday and it looked like a breeze for first money in the $50,000 event.

George Knudson, the spectacular young Canadian, Billy Casper and Bob Rosburg, were so far back that it looked like they were merely fighting it out for second money.

Instead, a finish duel developed with Knudson, Casper and Rosburg all making a run for the top money—and falling back in the face of Littler's two key birdies on the stretch holes.

At the finish it was Littler by two with the 24-year-old Knudson picking up his biggest tournament check with $4,600 for second place at 276. Casper and Rosburg finished at 277 for $2,800 each before heading for this week's Desert Classic at Palm Springs.

Littler's putter caught fire then, however, and he birdied 14 and 16 with six-footers after fine approaches.

Martins Ferry Matmen Topple Potters, 32-11

East Liverpool which has one victory and a tie to its credit this season salvaged three victories with Gary Burton, the Potters' 129-pounder pinning Wheller in 2:52.

District champ Joe Jackson kept up his outstanding work with an 8-0 decision over Deaton in the 135-pound match. And for the first time in several seasons an East Liverpool heavyweight won. Bud Manley, a sophomore, handled the Riders' Minder without any trouble in picking up a 9-0 victory.

McKechnie, Roush Added To Baseball Hall Of Fame

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Edd Roush and Deacon Bill McKechnie, two sparkling names in National League history, have been named to Baseball's Hall of Fame.

Roush, 68, and McKechnie, 74, were elected Sunday as the 89th and 90th members by the veterans' committee which considers only players inactive for at least 30 years. They will be inducted July 23 at Cooperstown, N. Y., along with Bobby Feller and Jackie Robinson, named last week by the baseball writers from men retired at least five years but not more than 30 years.

It was fitting that Roush and McKechnie should get the nod at the same time. They were teammates in the Federal League at Indianapolis and Newark in 1914-15 and with the New York Giants in 1916 before they were traded with Christy Mathewson to Cincinnati for Buck Herzog and Wade Killefer. In the winter they are neighbors in Bradenton, Fla.

"It's all right, but sometimes these things come too late," Roush said in Bradenton. "It takes them too long to vote on these players. Waiting for 30 years after a man becomes inactive, and five years to vote him in is too long. By that time a lot of men are not around any more."

Roush topped the writers' poll in 1960 but did not have the required three-fourths vote. This was the first time the veterans had considered him.

It was ironic that Roush should get the news in Florida. When he was a player he shunned spring training until the last minute. One year, 1930, he held out all season and never did join the Giants.

Missing training camp didn't seem to hurt Roush. His lifetime average for 16 years was .325 and he won the batting title at Cincinnati with .341 in 1917 and .321 in 1919. He was a left-handed batter and thrower. He was an excellent center fielder who liked to play shallow, right behind second base. In his day he used the heaviest bat (48 ounces) of any player, even bigger than Babe Ruth's famous club.

McKechnie also was a big league player, active as an infielder from 1907 to 1920, most of the time with Pittsburgh, but he was elected as a manager.

Deacon Bill won a pennant at Pittsburgh in 1925, beating Washington in the World Series. He won at St. Louis in 1928, losing to the New York Yankees and at Cincinnati in 1939 and 1940. The Reds lost to the Yanks in four straight in '39 but beat Detroit in seven games in '40. After he stepped down at Cincinnati in 1946, he coached under Lou Boudreau at Cleveland from 1947-1949 and again in Boston, 1952-53. While he was managing at Cincinnati, Rousch served under him as a coach in 1938.

Crestview Posts 12th, Trips Leetonia, 56-42

A balanced attack led to a 56-42 win for Crestview over Leetonia and gave the Rebels a 12-2 record so far this season.

With Baker scoring 13 points in the first quarter, Salineville grabbed a 21-16 lead when the period ended but Jewett went on a scoring rampage in the second period to take a 45-33 halftime edge and still led, 62-52, at the end of the third quarter.

Time Falls In Mile Run

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — While his coach jubilantly predicted he could cut the record to an unbelievable 3.48, Peter Snell, the new world mile record-holder, said today he would try to break the world half-mile standard Saturday.

Snell, who trimmed a tenth of a second off Herb Elliott's mile mark with a 3:54.4 clocking in a meet at Cooks Gardens in nearby Wanganui Saturday, said he thinks he can beat the half-mile record of 1:46.8 held by American Tom Courtney.

OSU At Purdue Tonight

Cagers Leave Classrooms To Face Heavy Floor Card

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

College basketball, in midterm doldrums the last two weeks, swings back into high gear this week with all members of the top 10 in action and second-ranked Kentucky and third-rated Cincinnati busiest of them all.

While undefeated and No. 1-ranked Ohio State (14-0), idle since thumping Purdue 91-65 a week ago, plays a return engagement with the Boilermakers tonight at home before taking on Northwestern Saturday, Kentucky (13-1) and Cincinnati (14-2) swing into a three-game schedule.

Kentucky, pacing the Southwestern Conference with a 4-0 mark, takes on three of the league's lower echelon—Georgia Tech tonight, Georgia Wednesday and Florida Friday.

Cincinnati, battling to stay in the Missouri Valley race with a 4-2 standing back of ninth-ranked Bradley's 5-1 and Wichita's 5-2, meets two conference foes—Drake Tuesday at home and North Texas away Saturday. In between the Bearcats take on independent Houston at Houston Thursday.

Fourth-ranked Kansas State, 13-2 after edging Iowa State 56-55, makes only one appearance this week. The Wildcats are at home Saturday to Nberaska and need the victory to keep on the heels of Colorado's Buffaloes, whose 4-0 mark is best in the Big Eight Conference. K State's league mark is 4-1.

Southern California, fifth-ranked at 12-3, also has only one game on the week's agenda, meeting UCLA away Friday. Sixth-ranked Duquesne faces two foes, one of them tough Villanova.

The Dukes, 14-2 after stopping LaSalle 80-66 Saturday, take on Villanova (15-2) Wednesday in what could be the game of the week. Villanova polished off Memphis State 109-84 Saturday with Hubie White getting 30 points and four teammates scoring in double figures.

Duke (14-2), ranked seventh and tied with North Carolina for the Atlantic Coast Conference lead after downing Wake Forest 82-68, clashes with two league foes — South Carolina at home Tuesday and at North Carolina Saturday.

Bowling Green (14-1), No. 8, returns to action Saturday after a week's idleness, meeting Miami (Ohio) on Miami's court Saturday. Bradley (12-3) playing without All-America Chet Walker, had a relatively easy time improving its Mo-Valley lead Saturday in downing North Texas State 84-70. The Braves face a couple of toughies this week in Tulsa tonight and St. Louis Saturday, both at home.

Mississippi State (14-1), trailing Kentucky in the Southeastern Conference with a 4-1 mark, shouldn't have any trouble holding its place in the top 10 unless Louisiana State causes trouble Saturday. The Rebels warm up for the league clash against non-conference Delta State tonight.

The Ohio State-Purdue game brings together two All-Americas —Ohio State's Jerry Lucas and Purdue's Terry Dischinger—in a return engagement. In their first clash a week ago, Lucas outscored the Boilermaker ace 32-19 and outrebounded him 21-1. Dischinger had a brilliant day against Wisconsin Saturday. He scored 50 points in a losing effort as the Badgers downed Purdue 89-86.

Dischinger's scoring rampage, however, was only second to Jimmy Rayl, who tossed in 56 points, including a game-winning 20-footer in Indiana's 105-104 victory over Minnesota.

Schaffer Ties United Mark

Tallies 40 Points In Lopsided Win

HANOVERTON — Jerry Schaffer, a 6-foot standout for Untied, grabbed a share of the school scoring record when he tied a two-year-old standard by pouring 40 points in an 81-38 victory over winless Jackson - Milton.

Schaffer's 40 points equaled a record set by Jim Summer in the 1959-60 season.

While the senior cager dropped in 14 points in the first half, he went on a rampage in the final two periods by adding 26 markers. His total came on 15 field goals and 10 charity tosses.

Schaffer's outstanding shooting also led his team to a 51 per cent shooting mark and he paced the Eagles in rebounds with 17.

United grabbed a 15-9 first quarter lead then put the game practically out of reach with a 32-13 halftime advantage.

John Hanna added 17 points to the United attack while Woloshak paced Jackson - Milton with 26.

Marine Sets New Pole Vault Record

"I'll make that 16 feet pretty soon," the rugged leatherneck from Quantico, Va., said. He set an indoor record of 15 feet 10¼ inches in an invitational meet Saturday. Don Bragg held the old mark of 15-9½.

Forced To Scramble

Littler Wins At Frisco

By P. D. ELDRED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gene Littler's one-dollar putter was a cold and unresponsive hunk of iron until he really needed it.

Then the ancient, homemade club the U.S. Open champion picked up for a buck in Milwaukee three months ago dropped two decisive putts for Gene in a rally that made him $9,000 richer today—winner of the San Francisco Open golf tournament by two strokes with a 274.

The usually steady San Diego pro was 12 under par for three rounds and six strokes in front of the field going into the final round Sunday and it looked like a breeze for first money in the $50,000 event.

George Knudson, the spectacular young Canadian, Billy Casper and Bob Rosburg, were so far back that it looked like they were merely fighting it out for second money.

Instead, a finish duel developed with Knudson, Casper and Rosburg all making a run for the top money—and falling back in the face of Littler's two key birdies on the stretch holes.

At the finish it was Littler by two with the 24-year-old Knudson picking up his biggest tournament check with $4,600 for second place at 276. Casper and Rosburg finished at 277 for $2,800 each before heading for this week's Desert Classic at Palm Springs.

Littler took bogeys at 11, 12 and 13 on bad chip shots. Knudson pulled up even with him, with Casper and Rosburg just one stroke back.

Littler's putter caught fire then, however, and he birdied 14 and 16 with six-footers after fine approaches.

Martins Ferry Matmen Topple Potters, 32-11

Martins Ferry pinned the fourth loss of the season on the East Liverpool wrestling team with a 32-11 decision Saturday on the Memorial Auditorium mats.

East Liverpool which has one victory and a tie to its credit this season salvaged three victories with Gary Burton, the Potters' 129-pounder pinning Wheller in 2:52.

District champ Joe Jackson kept up his outstanding work with an 8-0 decision over Deaton in the 135-pound match. And for the first time in several seasons an East Liverpool heavyweight won. Bud Manley, a sophomore, handled the Riders' Minder without any trouble in picking up a 9-0 victory.

McKechnie, Roush Added To Baseball Hall Of Fame

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Edd Roush and Deacon Bill McKechnie, two sparkling names in National League history, have been named to Baseball's Hall of Fame.

Roush, 68, and McKechnie, 74, were elected Sunday as the 89th and 90th members by the veterans' committee which considers only players inactive for at least 30 years. They will be inducted July 23 at Cooperstown, N. Y., along with Bobby Feller and Jackie Robinson, named last week by the baseball writers from men retired at least five years but not more than 30 years.

It was fitting that Roush and McKechnie should get the nod at the same time. They were teammates in the Federal League at Indianapolis and Newark in 1914-15 and with the New York Giants in 1916 before they were traded with Christy Mathewson to Cincinnati for Buck Herzog and Wade Killefer. In the winter they are neighbors in Bradenton, Fla.

"It's all right, but sometimes these things come too late," Roush said in Bradenton. "It takes them too long to vote on these players. Waiting for 30 years after a man becomes inactive, and five years to vote him in is too long. By that time a lot of men are not around any more."

Roush topped the writers' poll in 1960 but did not have the required three-fourths vote. This was the first time the veterans had considered him.

It was ironic that Roush should get the news in Florida. When he was a player he shunned spring training until the last minute. One year, 1930, he held out all season and never did join the Giants.

Missing training camp didn't seem to hurt Roush. His lifetime average for 16 years was .325 and he won the batting title at Cincinnati with .341 in 1917 and .321 in 1919. He was a left-handed batter and thrower. He was an excellent center fielder who liked to play shallow, right behind second base. In his day he used the heaviest bat (48 ounces) of any player, even bigger than Babe Ruth's famous club.

McKechnie also was a big league player, active as an infielder from 1907 to 1920, most of the time with Pittsburgh, but he was elected as a manager.

Deacon Bill won a pennant at Pittsburgh in 1925, beating Washington in the World Series. He won at St. Louis in 1928, losing to the New York Yankees and at Cincinnati in 1939 and 1940. The Reds lost to the Yanks in four straight in '39 but beat Detroit in seven games in '40. After he stepped down at Cincinnati in 1946, he coached under Lou Boudreau at Cleveland from 1947-1949 and again in Boston, 1952-53. While he was managing at Cincinnati, Roush served under him as a coach in 1938.

Crestview Posts 12th, Trips Leetonia, 56-42

A balanced attack led to a 56-42 win for Crestview over Leetonia and gave the Rebels a 12-2 record so far this season.

Jim Kress and Earl Wolfgang each fired in 14 points to spark the attack while Henry Nemenz had 13 and Russ Lehman added 12 for the visiting Leetonia five.

Leetonia kept pace the first half, trailing only 25-21 at intermission but fell behind 41-32 at the end of three quarters.

Time Falls In Mile Run

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — While his coach jubilantly predicted he could cut the record to an unbelievable 3.48, Peter Snell, the new world mile record-holder, said today he would try to break the world half-mile standard Saturday.

Snell, who trimmed a tenth of a second off Herb Elliott's mile mark with a 3:54.4 clocking in a meet at Cooks Gardens in nearby Wanganui Saturday, said he thinks he can beat the half-mile record of 1:46.8 held by American Tom Courtney.

OSU At Purdue Tonight

Cagers Leave Classrooms To Face Heavy Floor Card

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

College basketball, in midterm doldrums the last two weeks, swings back into high gear this week with all members of the top 10 in action and second-ranked Kentucky and third-rated Cincinnati busiest of them all.

While undefeated and No. 1-ranked Ohio State (14-0), idle since thumping Purdue 91-65 a week ago, plays a return engagement with the Boilermakers tonight at home before taking on Northwestern Saturday, Kentucky (13-1) and Cincinnati (14-2) swing into a three-game schedule.

Kentucky, pacing the Southwestern Conference with a 4-0 mark, takes on three of the league's lower echelon—Georgia Tech tonight, Georgia Wednesday and Florida Friday.

Cincinnati, battling to stay in the Missouri Valley race with a 4-2 standing back of ninth-ranked Bradley's 5-1 and Wichita's 5-2, meets two conference foes—Drake Tuesday at home and North Texas away Saturday. In between the Bearcats take on independent Houston at Houston Thursday.

Fourth-ranked Kansas State, 13-2 after edging Iowa State 56-55, makes only one appearance this week. The Wildcats are at home Saturday to Nberaska and need the victory to keep on the heels of Colorado's Buffaloes, whose 4-0 mark is best in the Big Eight Conference. K State's league mark is 4-1.

Southern California, fifth-ranked at 12-3, also has only one game on the week's agenda, meeting UCLA away Friday. Sixth-ranked Duquesne faces two foes, one of them tough Villanova.

The Dukes, 14-2 after stopping LaSalle 80-66 Saturday, take on Villanova (15-2) Wednesday in what could be the game of the week. Villanova polished off Memphis State 109-84 Saturday with Hubie White getting 30 points and four teammates scoring in double figures.

Duke (14-2), ranked seventh and tied with North Carolina for the Atlantic Coast Conference lead after downing Wake Forest 82-68, clashes with two league foes — South Carolina at home Tuesday and at North Carolina Saturday.

Bowling Green (14-1), No. 8, returns to action Saturday after a week's idleness, meeting Miami (Ohio) on Miami's court Saturday. Bradley (12-3) playing without All-America Chet Walker, had a relatively easy time improving its Mo-Valley lead Saturday in downing North Texas State 84-70. The Braves face a couple of toughies this week in Tulsa tonight and St. Louis Saturday, both at home.

Mississippi State (14-1), trailing Kentucky in the Southeastern Conference with a 4-1 mark, shouldn't have any trouble holding its place in the top 10 unless Louisiana State causes trouble Saturday. The Rebels warm up for the league clash against non-conference Delta State tonight.

The Ohio State-Purdue game brings together two All-Americas —Ohio State's Jerry Lucas and Purdue's Terry Dischinger—in a return engagement. In their first clash a week ago, Lucas outscored the Boilermaker ace 32-19 and outrebounded him 21-1. Dischinger had a brilliant day against Wisconsin Saturday. He scored 50 points in a losing effort as the Badgers downed Purdue 89-86.

Dischinger's scoring rampage, however, was only second to Jimmy Rayl, who tossed in 56 points, including a game-winning 20-footer in Indiana's 105-104 victory over Minnesota.

Rufo Given Nod In Trumbull For Cickelli's Post

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The Trumbull County Democratic Executive Committee has endorsed Gilbert Rufo of Cortland to replace Frank Cickelli on the county election board.

Cickelli, 51, chairman of both the committee and the election board, was convicted last week on two counts of bribery in connection with Warren's $4.5 million sewer project. He has been sentenced to prison for 2-17 years, but has appealed the conviction.

The executive committee endorsed Rufo to serve out Cickelli's term ending Feb. 28 on the election board. Cickelli said he would call another meeting of the committee later to endorse a candidate for the new four-year term on the board starting March 1.

The endorsement of Rufo now goes to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, who fired Cickelli from the election board last week. Brown had set today as a deadline, and told the Democrats he would pick someone himself for the election board if they made no endorsement.

Cickelli told the committee he would keep his chairmanship of that group until May, when the Democratic Central Committee meets to elect a chairman. He said he would not be a candidate for re-election to the post.

Rufo Given Nod In Trumbull For Cickelli's Post

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The Trumbull County Democratic Executive Committee has endorsed Gilbert Rufo of Cortland to replace Frank Cickelli on the county election board.

Cickelli, 51, chairman of both the committee and the election board, was convicted last week on two counts of bribery in connection with Warren's $4.5 million sewer project. He has been sentenced to prison for 2-17 years, but has appealed the conviction.

The executive committee endorsed Rufo to serve out Cickelli's term ending Feb. 28 on the election board. Cickelli said he would call another meeting of the committee later to endorse a candidate for the new four-year term on the board starting March 1.

The endorsement of Rufo now goes to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, who fired Cickelli from the election board last week. Brown had set today as a deadline, and told the Democrats he would pick someone himself for the election board if they made no endorsement.

Cickelli told the committee he would keep his chairmanship of that group until May, when the Democratic Central Committee meets to elect a chairman. He said he would not be a candidate for re-election to the post.

Executive Claimed

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP)— Harold C. Price, 73, chairman of the board of the H. C. Price Pipeline Co., one of the nation's largest pipeline construction companies, died Saturday, apparently of a heart attack.

"But Dear, I always said we shouldn't be a two car family!"

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I repair deeply scratched woodwork?

A. Try filling the scratches with a mixture of fine sawdust and spar varnish. After this filler has hardened completely, smooth it down with some fine sandpaper.

Q. How can I make my own furniture polish?

A. Add two tablespoons of olive oil and one of vinegar to a quart of warm water. Keep this solution warm while using. It will wash off dust and leave a light oil treatment on the wood. Rub dry with a clean, soft cloth.

Q. How can I prevent the bark surface on rustic furniture from peeling off?

A. By giving it a coat or two of spar varnish.

Q. Is there any good way I can revive some wilted vegetables?

A. Wilted vegetables can be given a new lease on life by soaking them in cold water containing a little salt for a short time before using.

Q. How can I remove perfume stains from fabrics?

A. Some of these stains will yield to treatment with hydrogen peroxide and sodium perborate. Add one teaspoon of the perborate to one pint of peroxide, and sponge the stain with the solution. Rinse by sponging with plain water. It's wise to test the colors before using this treatment on dyed materials.

Q. How can I weatherproof a pair of my son's leather shoes?

A. Apply some hot ski wax to the leather, rubbing this in briskly with a stiff brush. After the wax is set, rub with a cloth. This ski wax is very effective for keeping the leather rainproof and springy.

Q. Is there anything I can do when the bristles on my carpet sweeper have begun to wear short and won't pick up the dirt?

A. Try winding adhesive tape around the rollers, adhesive side down, facing the floor. This lets the brush down, and the sweeper usually works better than ever.

Junior Editors Quiz on SILK WORMS

QUESTION: How many silk worms does it take to make enough silk for a pair of stockings?

ANSWER: When the silkworm is full grown it begins to spin a cacoon of the fine silk thread. In the commercial raising of silk worms, the worm lives on a mulberry tree and feeds on its leaves. When the cocoon is complete and the insect destroyed, skilled workers unwind the find thread of the cocoon. These strands are exceptionally fine and if they were unwound into a single long strand it would measure anywhere from 300 to 1,500 yards — all from a single cocoon. This is called raw silk. It would take about 1,000 miles of it to weigh one pound. It is twisted into skeins and then washed in a hot soapy solution to remove some of the natural gum that protects it. This reduces the weight of the silk. It goes through many processes before it is finally used for making fabrics or stockings. Because of this, it takes the cocoons of about 70 silkworms to produce enough silk to eventually manufacture a pair of silk stockings.

FOR YOU TO DO: The Chinese were the first people to have silk. Read about the fascinating ways they tried to keep the manufacture of silk a secret from the rest of the world.
